“Progressive” Attendance Drawing

The March General Membership Meeting marked the beginning of our “Progressive” Attendance Drawing. For each General Membership Meeting, all members’ names will be placed in the bucket, whether in attendance or not.

If you are present and your name is drawn, you will win the pot! If you are not present and your name is drawn, the pot will grow by $20 for the next meeting. Minimum pot will be $20.

The name drawn for the March 8th meeting at The Corral was Wolf River Habitat for Humanity – represented by Mark Flunker who was present! Congratulations Mark!

The pot for the April 12th WRBA General Membership Meeting will again be $20, since it went out at the March meeting. Make sure you are there to win if your business/name is called!

Activities

The March 8 meeting was held at The Corral in Leopolis. Cap Wallrich was our Associate of the Month and told us some of the history of his family and the Wallrich Agency, going back to his father and even his grandfather. Thanks Cap!

The February meeting was held at The Spinning Wheel. Brad Santy with J.C. Santy Construction was the Associate of the Month. Brad gave us some insight into his business and shared the wide variety of types of projects he does. Thank you Brad!

The January 12 meeting was our Christmas party and was held at the Golden Sands Golf Course in Cecil. Don Pedersen from KerberRose S.C. talked about the upcoming tax season, 1099’s and the possible penalties involved with not sending them. Thanks Don!

We are looking for someone to share information about their business, projects, updates, offers, etc for the April & May meeting. Let Diane know if you are interested.

Door Prizes

A huge thank you to all of you who have donated door prizes over the last few months. I’ve gotten behind, and I’m sorry if I miss anyone. Each of you are truly appreciated! I love the wide variety of items we get!! Thanks to Ted & Dorothy Foster, Dearco, Stone Creations, Wallrich Agency, Valentine Inc., Dynamic Designs, Bill Biese Masonry, and WRBA (and anyone I may have missed!) The door prizes add some fun to our meetings. Any month you would like, you are welcome to bring a door prize!!

Activities Chairperson: John Maule – 715-853-6826

Advertising

WRBA 2016 Advertising Campaign is beginning the second quarter for 2016. The April ad is early due to the extra promo for the WRBA Home & Cottage Show and will be out on April 5th. If you are interested in having your ad included with the May issue, give Diane a call. Pricing for one space is $90 per quarter (three issues--one ad/month--a cost of only $30/month). You can also do a double ad on a quarterly basis for $180/quarter.

As always, ad space is available on a first come, first served basis.

Contact Diane at 715-853-2310 to reserve your space today.

Education

Don’t forget to check the WBA website (www.wisbuild.org) for the education opportunities being offered by the area builders associations. Many offer “member” rates to all WBA members. There are also some plans for education classes to be offered in our area this winter. Watch your newsletters and emails for more information.

Education Chairperson: Greg Brown – 715-526-2175

Membership –

We need to grow our membership! Please invite member prospects to the regular general membership meetings! We’ll cover dinner to give them the opportunity to see what we are all about. And we will give you a $10 Kwik Trip Card for bringing them! We will be doing a “membership push” for May and taking advantage of the extra benefits that NAHB offers in regard to spike credits, etc. Recruit!

Membership Chairperson: Tom Krause – 715-853-7859

Co-Chairperson: Trish Kieckhafer – 715-853-9961

Community Service – Scholarship Raffle

The Board of Directors voted to again offer up to three $500 scholarships for area high school students that are continuing their education in some aspect of the building trades. Greg Brown offered a storage shed to the WRBA for us to purchase from the Trades Program and be raffled off. We will hold the drawing at the Home Show in April at the Crawford Center.

PLEASE remember to turn in all tickets you may have by no later than Sunday, April 10th at the Crawford Center. And make sure that you are selling! We need each member to sell an average of 8 – 10 packs of three for the raffle to be a success. If you need tickets, let me know. If you have tickets, sell them and get them turned in! Second prize for the raffle is $250, third prize is $100.

Scholarship Applications

Applications for our scholarships have been coming in and we could use the help of a couple of members with deciding who will receive the scholarships. If you were looking for a way that you could help support WRBA that isn't terribly time consuming, this might be your opportunity! Contact Diane if you are interested – 715-853-2310.

WRBA Home Show -

Major Sponsor: *Woodstock Hardwood Flooring & Design Center – thank you!

It's almost here! April 9 & 10 are the show dates for the 2016 WRBA Home & Cottage Show. Vendors/booths are up for this year and continue to come in!! As of today, we are at 52 booths! That is awesome news. See the last page of this newsletter for a current list of vendors.

However, member vendors are down. If you have given it any thought at all, reconsider again the idea of having a booth in the show. And I understand it's not always an option to have a booth in the show and support WRBA in that way. But if you can't put a booth in the show, please consider donating a prize for the bucket raffles. We had some great donations last year and the event was a big success. We'd like to make it even bigger this year. Help us out! Contact Diane or Cap to donate an item and have it picked up if necessary or to reserve a space for a booth!

Associate of the Month Program

WRBA would like to have more of the Associate members present information about their business at the monthly general membership meetings. It could be general information about who you are and what your company does, or info on a special promotion that you are holding, a sale that you have going on, etc. If we don't get volunteers, we will be contacting members to ask that you take a turn and tell your fellow members a bit about your business! Consider it free advertising! Contact Diane today via email or phone message!

Monday Morning Review

March 21, 2016

Electronic Permitting Bill Now 2015 Wisconsin Act 211

On March 1st, Governor Walker signed Senate Bill 458 (SB 458) into law. SB 458 was a WBA-supported bill, not only to make additions to the information that is required on the one- and two-family building permit, but also to phase in an electronic system that will allow municipalities to electronically submit one- and two-family building permit data to the Department of Safety and Professional Services (DSPS).

After being signed into law last week, SB 458 became 2015 Wisconsin Act 211. There is now a two year delayed effective date to allow DSPS time to build an electronic reporting system and for them to train local municipalities on how to use that system. This law will be fully implemented throughout Wisconsin by January 2, 2018.

Some of the highlights from 2015 Wisconsin Act 211 include:

- Making sure that all one- and two-family building permits contain the number and expiration date for any contractor that is pulling the building permit. A homeowner pulling a permit to work on the home they reside in is not required to have any DSPS credential to pull a permit.
- An extended time period for DSPS develop a system for individuals and municipalities to process one- and two-family building permits. DSPS has confirmed that they can fund this technological upgrade.
- An extended time period for municipalities to work with DSPS on the approval and submittal process of one- and two-family building permits through the administrative rule process.

- Flexibility for municipalities to get approval from DSPS on an electronic system for collecting and submitting one- and two-family building permits that they may already be using.
- Streamlining current law that requires municipalities to submit copies of all one- and two-family building permits to DSPS in 101.65(3).

The groups that worked hard on the compromise that was ultimately signed into law as 2015 Wisconsin Act 211 include the Wisconsin Towns Association, The Wisconsin League of Municipalities, the Wisconsin Code Officials Alliance, the Wisconsin Builders Association, and the DSPS.

The overall public policy goals contained in the act are the result of getting more input from the above-mentioned groups to improve this legislation. The result of the changes contained in the substitute amendment eliminated opposition to the proposal from the groups mentioned above.

Thank you to those WBA members who provided input and guidance on this important piece of public policy that was originally contained in the WBA Advocacy Agenda for the 2015-2016 legislative session.

"NAHB Bringing Housing Home" Efforts with Speaker Paul Ryan

Recently, as part of the "NAHB Bringing Housing Home" efforts, a number of members were able to meet with Speaker Paul Ryan in his district office in Janesville to discuss important housing issues. This is the first formal meeting that has been set up between Wisconsin members and Speaker Ryan since he became the Speaker of the House last year.

JP Delmore, who currently serves as a NAHB Assistant Vice President with tax policy as his leader area of expertise, came in from Washington D.C. to attend the meeting as well. We thank Executive Director Kris Hillmer with the Metropolitan Builders Association for taking the lead in requesting this meeting, and to South Central Wisconsin BA Executive Officer Carol Engebretson for working to get members to attend this important sit-down with Speaker Ryan.

Some of the topics covered during the meeting included how housing fit into the Speaker's poverty agenda and how the tax code can be simplified while still protecting homeowners and renters to foster more economic growth and upward mobility. Another big topic that was discussed was the issue of reforming the area of housing financing.

Speaker Ryan stated that members of his caucus are currently working on a number of important policy items to address many of the issues raised during the meeting on Thursday.

One of the key takeaways from the meeting was the statement that, in order to help housing in our country, the best thing that could be done would be to "get government out of housing."

Marquette Law School Poll: Feingold Still Up; Walker Still in High 30%,

In late February the Marquette University Law School Poll issued its latest installment of polling data for Wisconsin. The Poll, conducted by Professor Charles Franklin, has become the gold standard for polling data as it has been found to be highly accurate when compared to past final election data in Wisconsin.

In what will likely be one of the most watched races for U.S. Senate in the entire country, U.S. Senator Russ Feingold is still maintaining a double digit lead against current U.S. Senator Ron Johnson, 49% to 37%. It was noted that this number has changed little since November 2015. Certainly, when you are an incumbent in the year of an election and are down 12%, it is far from where you want to be as you head into a fall reelection bid. Because of this, we can likely expect to see more advertising this spring and possibly summer, in an attempt to bring up Johnson's numbers to stop Feingold's momentum from continuing through the summer months.

In addition, The Marquette Law School Poll asked once again about pollsters' opinions on Governor Walker. The poll contacted 802 registered voters between February 18 and 21, and had a margin of error of 4.5%. Governor Walker's approval rating in February 2016 remains relatively unchanged from January 2016. The most recent approval rating for the governor comes in at 39%, standing at 38% last month. Governor Walker has been aggressively traveling the state and taking on a number of public policy initiatives, most notably a package of changes to address college student debt, in an effort to reconnect with Wisconsin voters and improve his approval rating.

Finally, in a statewide race that voters will decide on April 5, the Marquette University Law School Poll shows a dead heat between Justice Rebecca Bradley and challenger Judge JoAnne Kloppenburg 37% to 36% by voters who said they were "absolutely certain" they would be voting in the April 5 election. This polling number tracks the results of the primary election early this month that had Bradley winning narrowly 45% to 43%, with a third candidate, Judge Joe Donald, receiving 12% of the vote. Donald recently endorsed Kloppenburg, and it will be interesting to see if that gives her a bump in future polling, considering the endorsement was done after the poll was conducted. Election watchers from all sides predict the race for Wisconsin Supreme Court in April to be very close.

Gryboski Recently Named Advocacy Vice Chair

With the installation of the new WBA Board of Directors and leadership on January 29, we also welcome new leaders to the WBA Advocacy Group. Mike Howe recently moved from his position of Advocacy Group Vice Chair to Chair, replacing Jim Doering. WBA President-elect David Belman also indicated that Steve Gryboski of Gryboski Builders has accepted his appointment to become the WBA Advocacy

Vice Chair for 2016. When David Belman is installed as the WBA President in early 2017, Gryboski will move up to become the Chair of the WBA Advocacy Group, becoming a member of the WBA Executive Committee as well.

Steve, along with his brother Bob, currently operate Gryboski Builders in Green Bay. Their parents, Roger and Cathy, were great mentors and have been enjoying retirement since 1996. Before Roger and Cathy, their grandfather, Ted, and great grandfather, Joseph, were also builders.

We are looking forward to working with Steve as the Vice Chair of the Advocacy Group in 2016 as we begin work on the elections for State Assembly and State Senate this fall and start to establish our 2017-2018 WBA Advocacy Agenda.

Legislative Housing Committee Members Announce Retirements

Recently, a longtime member of the Assembly Housing and Real Estate Committee (and former chair) John Murtha and a new member of the Senate Committee on Insurance and Housing Committee, Nikiya Harris Dodd, announced that they would not be seeking reelection this fall.

State Senator Nikiya Harris Dodd, a democrat from Milwaukee who was serving her first term as a member of the Senate Committee on Insurance and Real Estate, announced that she would not be seeking a second term as a member of the state senate.

In a statement announcing she would not seek reelection, Harris Dodd said, "I am honored to have earned the trust and respect of my constituents to serve as their voice in the fight for justice, fairness, and equity for the people in our great state. As the eldest of thirteen siblings, I have never shied away from making difficult decisions or taking on tough challenges. My decision to not seek reelection is at the top of the list of many difficult decisions I have made. My love, passion, and commitment to improve conditions for citizens of Milwaukee will continue to be my driving force."

This week also came the official announcement that State Representative John Murtha, a republican from Baldwin, would not seek reelection this fall. Murtha has served as a member of the state assembly from the 29th Assembly District since his election to an open seat in 2006.

Murtha released a statement on his decision, saying, "The legislature has accomplished a lot during my tenure, and I am proud of the work we have done. When Republicans gained control of both houses in 2011, Wisconsin's unemployment rate was at 8 percent. By holding the line on taxes, reforming our administrative codes, and sticking to conservative principles, we created an environment for small businesses to grow. Today, the unemployment rate is at 4.4 percent. Just recently, we had our best one-month private sector job growth since 1992. Our economy has gotten better and I believe it will continue to get better."

Murtha formerly served as the chair of the Assembly Housing and Real Estate Committee before moving into a spot on the Assembly GOP leadership team. This session Murtha served as a member of the committee he once chaired.

Both Harris Dodd and Murtha were great to work with as members of committees that we interact with a great deal, and they will be missed next session. For their efforts in support of housing, both Harris Dodd and Murtha were recently awarded WBA "Friend of Housing" awards for 2016.

WBA Executive Director

Take your mobile emails up a notch

Sending texts and emails from your phone is a part of life and business, but maintaining your professionalism doesn't have to go out the window when you're on the go. Consider these quick tips from Cellcom to master mobile messaging:

- Edit your email signature – The default signature in the stock mail apps typically only indicates the message has been sent from a mobile device, but doesn't include your name or contact information. You can edit the signature in your settings menu. For iOS go to Settings>Mail, Contacts, Calendar and scroll down to signature. For Android, it can vary depending on your device, but if you go into your mail app, tap the menu button and then settings, you'll see your signature – simply tap to edit.
- Create keyboard shortcuts – if you find yourself typing the same word (like your company name) or phrase on your mobile device, create shortcuts to save you time when crafting your messages. On iOS, visit Settings>General>Keyboard>Shortcuts and tap on the plus sign in the top right corner. You'll see blanks for phrase and shortcuts. In the phrase, type the longer phrase you want to show up and in the shortcut bar type the letter combination you want to expand to your phrase. For Android, visit Settings>Language & Keyboard>Input>Personal dictionary. You'll again tap the plus sign to add your phrase and shortcut options.

- Avoid emojis and emoticons – Ever wonder why the letter “J” shows up in emails on your phone? Or why there’s a box with a question mark inside on your desktop email client? Emojis that are commonplace in texting and messaging don’t always translate to desktop email. Conversely, emoticons, created using combinations of symbols on your desktop computer, don’t show up as intended on mobile devices. With emails being cross-platform in many business situations, it’s best to leave these icons out if you don’t know where the recipient will be reading the message.

In our fast-paced world, emails sent from your mobile devices does not have to mean sacrificing time or quality. Follow Cellcom on LinkedIn for more tips and updates on mobile technology.

Following are some of the recently highlighted Apps that were suggested by Cellcom...

- Want to find the best route with all available transit where you are traveling? Try City Mapper! It will show you subway, bus, train, rail and ferry with real time directions and departure times.
- Need to find restaurants in the area? Using Urban Spoon, find restaurant information such as phone number and address, browse their menu and book a table.
- Search, book and manage flights right on your smartphone using EasyJet. Track your arrival and departure times, and store your boarding passes for easier airline travel.
- Using IFTTT, to create recipes to link your applications and smart devices together. Create

“if this then that” connections to make your life easier.

- Keep all team communications together using Slack. Real time messaging, file sharing and syncing across devices to make your work projects easier.
- Use Trello to organize any projects (work or personal) that you are working on. Create boards to collaborate with friends, family and co-workers.

Our condolences to the family of Bill Gorman. Bill was a member of the WRBA with his business, Gorman Plumbing, and was currently serving on our Board as one of the Associate Directors. Bill died on Monday, March 21st and was 59 years old. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his wife Sandy, their two daughters, family and friends. A card & memorial gift has been sent from WRBA.

For Your Information...

At IBS we were told that many of our members invested in a company called HOW Corp back in the 80s & 90s. It was a home warranty company that went out of business and into receivership some time ago. To make a long story short, the company is going through the liquidation process and many of the original investors are entitled to a return of their capital contributions. The problem is that since so much time has passed, some of the contact information for builders is outdated.

NAHB has created a website to help our builders contact the administrator for HOW Corp and to update their address. There are essentially two links. The background page is available here: <http://nahbnow.com/2016/03/how-companies-payments-to-be-disbursed/>

There is another link embedded in the page above which takes you to another page that lays out how to update contact information. There is an April 15 deadline to submit information.

If you or someone you know might have been invested in this company, make sure to check this out!
