From your President

Happy New Year! As we ring in 2025 I hope you've had a chance to pause and look back on the previous years trials and accomplishments as you and your teams set goals for this coming year.

I am excited and thankful to be serving as President of the Wolf River Builders Association and look forward to working with all of you in some sort of capacity throughout the year to come. My hope is that we will all see growth and increases in 2025 as single family housing permits increased statewide, with several local counties seeing high percentage growths in 2024 compared to the previous year.

One of the best parts of being a member here at the WRBA is seeing Builders and Associate members working together, whether on the job site or behind the scenes. Please continue to develop working relationships with members and invite others that you work with to join. Together, we can become stronger in 2025 and bring growth and excellence to the communities and clients we serve throughout the industry.

January 1st was the start of our 25 days of drawings for the WRBA Scholarship Raffle. Proceeds benefit scholarships for area students entering the building trades. Thank you to those individuals and members who worked hard selling tickets and to all those who help support the raffle. There are still some tickets available with plenty of opportunities to win.

Coming up on January 14th is the WRBA annual Christmas Party being held at Antlers Supper Club in Bonduel. I look forward to seeing many of you or a company representative there as we enjoy catching up and networking starting around 5:45 pm and a nice meal and short meeting to follow. If you or your company would like to donate a door prize, please bring it that night.

Let's make this year the best yet. As always, please reach out to myself or other respective appointees as we strive to advocate for the needs and interests of our valued members.

Sincerely,
Bryce Szymanski

Corporate Transparency Act update

On December 26, 2024, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit paused the enforcement of the Corporate Transparency Act (CTA), thus pausing the beneficial ownership reporting requirements for U.S. small business owners. The CTA remains on hold for now while under review. We will keep you updated as further developments unfold.

What This Means for Reporting Companies

- No Immediate Filing Obligations: Thanks to this latest development, Reporting Companies are not currently required to submit beneficial ownership information (BOI) reports. This includes the initial reports for entities formed before January 1, 2024, that were due to be reported by January 13, 2025.
- Voluntary Submissions: While not mandatory, the U.S. Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) has indicated that companies may opt to submit BOI reports voluntarily if they choose.
- Future Readiness: Given the turbulent nature of these developments, you should monitor developments closely and prepare to comply if the injunction is lifted.

What is the Corporate Transparency Act?

The CTA was enacted in 2021 to combat illicit activity including tax fraud, money laundering, and financing for terrorism by capturing more ownership information for specific U.S. businesses operating in or accessing the country's market. Under the new legislation, businesses that meet certain criteria must submit a Beneficial Ownership Information \(BOI\) Report to the U.S. Department of Treasury's Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), a subagency of the US Department of Treasury. This report provides details identifying individuals who are associated with the reporting company.

A beneficial owner is any individual who directly or indirectly owns at least 25% of the company or who exercises substantial control over the company.

The CTA was established to prevent individuals with malicious intent from hiding or benefitting from the ownership of their U.S. entities to facilitate illegal operations which, according to Congress, is a widely-used tactic that affects national security and economic integrity.

The CTA applies to corporations, limited liability companies (LLCs), and other entities formed in the United States by filing with a secretary of state or a similar state office. These are referred to as domestic reporting companies. Firms organized in Wisconsin as business corporations, nonstock corporations and LLCs, among others, are organized by filing with the Wisconsin Department of Financial Institutions (DFI). Thus, they are domestic reporting companies.

The CTA provides exceptions for sole proprietorships, general partnerships, joint ventures and trusts. There also are exemptions for 23 other categories of entities such as large operating companies, banks, accounting firms, publicly traded companies, investment advisors and insurance companies.

The Treasury Department reported in October that it had received just 10% of the required submissions to comply before penalties would begin in 2025. Many attributed the low compliance rate to a lack of awareness among small businesses, insufficient outreach & education from the federal government, and a tight time frame for compliance.

If the CTA is found to be constitutional, small businesses with less than $5 million in annual revenue and less than 20 full-time employees would be required to report on their ownership structure, business addresses, and other information to FinCEN.

To File or Not to File

If you have already filed your BOI report, you have nothing to worry about. If you have not filed, you now have the option to voluntarily file or wait to see what is the next ruling to come down from the Fifth Circuit, understanding that, if the law is found constitutional, you may have a short window to comply. We are not making a recommendation either way. You can follow the news on BOI reporting directly from the official FinCEN website found here, although it tends to be a day or two late. And, if you want to go ahead and voluntarily file a BOI report, free of charge, you can visit <https://boiefiling.fincen.gov/fileboir>

Progressive Attendance Drawing

The name drawn for the $260 pot at the December Breakfast Meeting was Knope Heating & Air Conditioning. A representative was not in attendance to claim the prize, so the pot at the January meeting will increase to $280.

Unfamiliar with the “Progressive” Attendance Drawing”? For each General Membership Meeting, each member will have a chip with a number that corresponds to their name placed in the bucket, whether the member is in attendance or not.

If present and your name (#) is drawn, you will win the pot! If you are not present and your name is drawn, the pot will grow by $20 for the next meeting or Hard Hat Happy Hour event. Minimum pot will always be $20. It costs you nothing, but you could be a winner if you're there!

Make sure you are there to win if your name (#) is called!

WBA Member Meeting Day Jan. 31

Registration is open for the upcoming Wisconsin Builders Association Member Meeting Day and Presidents Installation on January 31 in River Falls.

The event will feature the installation of 2025 WBA President Mike Derrick and the remaining members of the WBA Executive Committee. Annual awards will also be announced and presented.
