Chantel Goldsworthy & Laura Roberts

The dream was to create a space which would be the perfect springboard for talented artists and creatives to exhibit a wide range of creative disciplines, to a whole new audience of people.

As well curating regular selected group shows showcasing talented emerging and established artist, SPRING also recognised the benefit of artist's being able to sell work directly to customers, so wanted to offer a "pop-up" environment for creatives to curate their own exhibitions, in a simple and affordable way.

CONFLUENCE
Howard Mason | Angie Spencer

Howard Mason is a storyteller in paint.. Often referencing old masters and reframing their compositions in a modern context, Mason captures something quintessentially human and intriguing.

Angie Spencer works en plein air and is fascinated by the conjunction of light and water. Her work focuses on the restlessness of water. and the layered energy of being outside in Nature.

One artist looks at water, the other at people, but both are chasing the same thing: the feeling of a moment just before it disappears. There is no "documentation" here. Only paint, rhythm, and the result of real observation.

Bird Nerd and The Red List - An engaging dance theatre performance bringing the plight of endangered UK birds to life, created and performed by Marie-Louise Flexen,

A striking dance theatre performance is inviting audiences to connect with some of the UK's most threatened bird species through movement, sound, storytelling and song. An intimate 30-minute work inspired by birds on the UK's endangered Red List. Suitable for all ages, it follows a passionate birdwatcher through encounters with four species of conservation concern: Lark, Lesser Spotted Woodpecker, Swift and Nightingale. Blending dance, spoken word, music and theatrical transformation, the performance explores the habitats, behaviours and challenges facing these remarkable birds.

Artist Residency
at The Park Campus

University of Gloucestershire's Elwes Gallery is hosting the first artist-in-residence at Park Campus in Cheltenham.

Professional sculptor Natasha Houseago is working outdoors in the Park Campus grounds over the University's spring and autumn academic terms.

As a wood carver who works mainly with locally sourced wood that has fallen naturally, Natasha combines her own studio practice with exhibiting, teaching carving, community and public art projects, and residencies in the UK and abroad.

Elwes Gallery is a curated exhibition space in the centre of Park Campus which creates dialogue between the past and future of visual arts practice.

As the first Elwes Gallery artist-in-residence, Natasha's work will bring contemporary sculptural practice directly on to campus. Students, staff, and visitors can find Natasha in Park Campus grounds near Broadlands Villa. Pop along and see Natasha at work.

BECOME A SUPPORTER. The ART ebulletin has always been a free resource for artists, arts organisations and art lovers alike. It champions all forms of visual art locally, commercial or not. We don't charge for advertising, as we think it should remain an independent directory that is available to all. As its popularity grows so does the time it takes to pull it together. If you value it, are able and would like to help support the cost of producing it each month, then please consider giving an annual donation and help keep this valuable resource viable.
