

INSTRUCTIONAL COACHING:

Building All Teachers'
Capacity for Success

Wilson Education Center

This training is for coaches, principals, and other school personnel who serve as teacher mentors or coaches. Training will focus upon an exploration of coaching, observation, reflection, and ways of providing constructive feedback to foster teacher growth and independence.

Morning sessions (8:30-11:30) are designed for both principals and coaches. For effective coaching to occur, it is critical coaches and principals work together with teachers throughout the coaching cycle. Specific focus will be on identifying the elements of productive classrooms, conducting successful observations, aiding teachers in reflective practice, and providing constructive feedback to enhance practice.

Afternoon sessions (12:00-3:00) will focus on ways coaches can support teachers while assisting them in developing strong inquiry skills and instructional independence. Participants will observe videos of coaches and teachers working together and give feedback on the effectiveness of the coaching they are observing. Coaches will complete a self-evaluation at the end of the training session.
