

Joshua, age 110 years old, died. (1) He had been born in Egypt and was 42 years old at the Exodus in 1447 BC, 82 at the Conquest of Canaan he led. This year was a fateful one in Egypt as well.

Akenaten is the victim of a conspiracy by the priesthoods to remove him. He is poisoned by general Horemheb. The Amarna Dynasty is overthrown and the city between Upper and Lower Egypt is destroyed. Nationalism has taken root and the Old Gods are usurped by the new Osirian Cult. He had been hated for weakening the cults seated at Karnak, Thebes, Memphis and Saqqara by displacing the older ennead pantheon. At Amarna he erected the Per-Ankh, or House of Life where new priests were trained in the worship of Aten, a university that omitted the worship of Isis and Osiris. (2) He abolished idolatry (3) and he married his stepmother, the famous ~~Max~~ Nefertiti, a former Amorite princess from Mitanni who had been married to Amenhotep's father. She bore Akenaten many children. (4) The beautiful Nefertiti's face was preserved on a bust excavated by German archeologists at Amarna. Akenaten was no doubt influenced by the ~~Exodus~~ Exodus. During his 33 year reign he ignored the pleas of the Canaanites for military help, ignored the Amorite power and the emerging Hittites. The 377 Amarna tablets (5) reveal the presence of an Iron (Age) Empire in the world, the Hittites, first to develop military-grade iron weapons and they were feared for this reason because iron is superior to bronze and copper armor and weaponry. This is the Late Bronze Age. Prior to the 1447 BC disasters and Exodus, the territories of Nubia, Libya and Syria paid tribute to Egypt but now, after these ~~via~~ calamities the Nubians, Libyans and Syrians did not pay tribute and Egypt did nothing about it (6), just as they did nothing about the Canaanite pleas. Egypt kept the lid on their true condition and locked down its borders so foreign powers could not discover how ruined the country was. Amarna itself had only been inhabited 15 years before it was destroyed. (7) Egyptologists largely concentrate ~~of~~ on the Osirian Cult and on Isis when expounding upon things Egyptian, but scholars and archeologists have long noted that the worship of Osiris and Isis came late in the history of Egypt and there is a very biblical reason for this.

In 1447 BC the Egyptians blamed the Israelites and their God for the catastrophe that destroyed their country, crops, cities, people and Temples. The Egyptian survivors scraped off all of the known and reachable references to the Virgin giving birth to the Son, to Set and to Atum-Iu, the ancient Father-Son. The importance of the early Sethite builders of the Giza Complex to the Hebrews prompted the later Egyptians to efface all references to Set as a deity rather than as a pre-flood lineage, the Sethites. Set was demonized and Osiris and Isis became the new gods of Egypt.

The Danites were a growing tribe of Israel. In this year they took the Phoenician city of Laish that belonged to Sidon and occupied it because their lot in Israel was too confined. (1) Some believe this marked the beginning of the flight of Dan from Israel.

Israel is invaded and occupied by the Babylonians of the Hittite Dynasty under King Chushan-Risha'thaim of Babylon. The Hittite-controlled army razed the Amorite cities, destroyed Mitanni and removed the Amorite presence throughout Syria. (1) This is the FIRST invasion of Israel, in its 42nd year occupying Canaan.

The invasion prompted the flight of more Israelites, mainly those of Dan and Zebulun. These people would sail to Crete, to Aegean islands, to Asia Minor and to early Greece. Hittite inscriptions reveal that as early as the 14th century BC the Helleadic kings ruled Pamphylia and Lesbos. (2) As will be shown, ~~xxx~~ scholars attest that the Helleadic kings came from Palestine. These people were called Achaeans. (3)

It was also 520 years (52x10) after the Abrahamic Covenant was instituted. 90 years after Exodus in 1447 BC was 1080 months.

The new capitol city of Yin of the Shang Dynasty was built in the reign of the fifth king, Tai Geng. (1) This was also referred to as the T'ang Dynasty. This means that in the preceding 96 years since 1447 BC when the Mandate of Heaven caused a dynastic change there ruled four other Shang kings. It was at this site, later called Anyang, that Chinese archeologists would find tens of thousands of archaic Chinese texts on turtle shells and bones concerning these kings and the devastation that led to the emergence of their dynasty in 1447 BC.

This date in history has dynastic-related calendarics. It is 864x4 before Armageddon in 2106 AD, or 3456 years when the Chief Cornerstone will begin His millennial dynasty. It was 2688 years (1344+1344) since the planet entered its present orbit, the Anunnaki Year of 1344 being when man was banished from Eden in 3895 BC. This was the year 2022 of the Olmec Calendar, a people in the Americas related to the Chinese. 1488 of the Anunnaki Dynasty is 744+744, a Golden Proportion number like 864 and also like 888, the number of years after the Flood that Yin was built. This year was a very important one in Chinese history.

King Latinus II of Italia (Chittim) died in his 50th year of rule. (1) This ends the chronologically-arrange ancient Hebrew Book of Jasher, which covered 2550 years of history from 3895-1345 BC, or 51 jubilees. Latinus II is the last known ruler of Italia until after the Trojan War (1229 BC) where we will soon find that the name Latinus had become a distinctive dynastic title in ancient Italy.

Twenty-four years after the Danites invaded and occupied a part of Phoenicia a massive fleet of Danites with other Israelites crossed via Crete into the Peloponness joining their Danaan kin already living in the country. Thebes was destroyed, as was Argos. (2) The Danaan forced the local populace and Argives to coexist with them. Thebes had originally been occupied at this time by Canaanites who escaped the earlier Israelite invasion in 1407 BC. Now a Phoenician would rule Thebes, the City of Seven Gates, named after the Egyptian city of Thebes. Athens was invaded and the Danaan burnt down the temple of (3) Apollo. Israel, Phoenicia and Cyprus (Ia-Dan) emerged together at this time as a unified people, Ia-Dan being the island gateway to the Aegean. The Danite fleets sailed up the coasts of Asia Minor and founded mercantile bases at such places that would be called Ephesus and Miletus. The locals called the people by the name of the gods they worshipped. They quickly learned that these strangers worshipped a God called Yah and that they also venerated a cow-goddess that was depicted as a dragon-Sphinx. (4) This Yah they designated in Asia Minor as Io, which they gave an Egyptian origin to, as Hathor, the Cow-Goddess, not realizing that these people (Danites) had lived in Goshen in Egypt for 210 years virtually at the feet of the Sphinx at Giza.

The famous Ionians were none other than the Danites of Israel. This date was 2 1224 months after the Exodus (102 years), the sum 1224 being half of 2448, the Annus Mundi year of 1447 BC when the Israelites escaped Egypt. It was also 414 years (a Cursed Earth period) to the civil war in Israel ~~and~~ that would rift it into Two Kingdoms, Israel and Judah in 931 BC. This was also 864 years before the Greeks (descended from Japheth and Israel) defeated the Persians in 481 BC. Also, this was 600 years before the other Ten Tribes of Israel were forcibly deported to the east and northeast by the Assyrians in 745 BC.

On the eastern side of the Aegean the Ionians, the Danaan, were associated with the Sphinx, but on the western side where Greece and Mycenaea lied the newcomers were associated with the Great Pyramid (Seal of Israel). In this year Argos was destroyed and Mycenaea overrun by the Danaan. The Danaan built a small scale replica of the Great Pyramid in Argos. Long ago the Greek traveller Pausanius wrote about this small pyramid built of large blocks five feet long. Scholars had dismissed this account until in 1936 and 1937 AD the Pyramids of Argolis had been discovered and excavated, a second pyramid at the foot of the Arachneus Mountains a mile and a half away. With base sides at about 44 feet and a height of 33 feet we see the intent to copy the proportions of the Great Pyramid. The proof they are replicas of the ~~no~~ Giza monuments is found in that the pyramids of Argolis have ~~no~~ apex stones. (5) Historians make it clear that the Argives began vanishing as the Argives emerged.

This is the beginning period of Israelite presence in Europe, a heritage shown in that the earliest chroniclers in history claim that Europe was named after a Phoenician princess who had been abducted (6) This is exactly what happened. The Israelites assimilated with the Phoenicians early on, taking their cities and ports and using them in their exodus from Palestine into the European world.

The Restoration Stela of King Tutankhamen at Karnak describes Egypt during the time of his predecessor Akenaten- "The temples of the gods and goddesses, from Aswan to the Delta swamps...had fallen into ruin. Their sanctuaries were decayed, become as heaps of rubble, overgrown with weeds; their shrines were like what does not exist. Their mansions were a footpath. The land was in calamity and the gods turned away from this land. If an army was sent to Djahy (Palestine) to extend the borders of Egypt, no success ~~could~~ could happen for them..." (1) This lamentation describes Egypt's total ruin from the ten plagues disasters in 1447 BC. The heretic king Akenaten was later blamed after the fact of his rule for this earlier devastation as Egyptian chroniclers focused on him rather than Israel and the Exodus event. This reference to Palestine is revealing, for Egypt was surrounded by enemies and places they ~~could~~ could extend their territory. Here we have an inadvertent admission that in Palestine was a people who not allow Egypt to extend their borders. This is evident in the Canaanite Amarna documents and fact that Nubia, Libya and Syria all quit providing Egypt tribute. This ancient Egyptian text is dated exactly 680 years after Ham (Chem, Anam, Mena, Menes) began his rule after the Flood in 2012 BC, 680 years being 244,800 days (2448), this paralleling the year 2448 (1447 BC) when Egypt was ruined.

King Eglon of Moab organized an alliance between Moab and Ammon against Israel. They are joined in the alliance by the Amalekites. At the death of the Judge Othniel, the allied armies invade Israel forcing them to pay tribute for 18 years. (1) This is 48 years (576 months- Golden Proportion number) after the Hittite Dynasty of Babylon invaded Israel in 1365 BC, this being the 2nd time Israel as a nation was attacked. This year was 630 years (70x9) after Abraham was born, the patriarch of Israel and kin to Lot who was patriarch of Moab and Ammon. This was also 560 years (70x8) after the Abrahamic Covenant was instituted and 490 years (70x7) after it was confirmed in 1807 BC. A left-handed Benjamite of Israel named Ehud entered the Moabite court of King Eglon who was extraordinarily fat. Ehud pretended to have a secret message for the king, who then dismissed his guards to the outer hall. Because the Israelites fulfill their obligation to overrun all of Canaan there were still many cities of the Canaanites. In this year a combined army under Sisera forced Israel to pay tribute for 20 years. This Canaanite oppression was 490 years (70x7) after birth of Jacob. This was the 3rd time Israel was invaded and defeated since becoming a nation, exactly 68 years after the 1st invasion by the Hittite-controlled Babylonians. 68 years is 24,480 days (2448). This Canaanite invasion was 552 years before the Assyrians would invade in 745 BC and deport the Ten Tribes of Israel.

The Canaanite invasion raises an important point. Israel had just conquered Canaan and Bashan 110 years earlier and in that time they no doubt multiplied in numbers. That the Canaanites raised armies and in turn overpowered Israel reveals that the Israelite population had stagnated because of a continual decrease in numbers. As we will see, the Israelites were migrating in groups throughout the Mediterranean, the Aegean isles and coasts of Asia Minor and the Peloponnese. Israel was growing so rapidly the land could not sustain them.

This is the final year of Pharaoh Seti II reigning alone for in this year he begins the co-rulership with his son who assumes the title Ramesis II, who oppressed the Israelites. By this time Seti I had subdued Phoenicia, which at this time was brimming with Israelites. (1) The Egyptian presence would have instigated a new wave of immigration from the coasts of Phoenicia and Israel to Crete and the Aegean. In an inscription of Seti I and Ramesis II we discover references to Asher in Palestine, one of the Israelite tribes. (2) Immanuel Velikovsky exhibits Egyptian texts that reveal that Palestine was occupied by a white, north Semitic population. (3) The emergences of the boy-Pharaoh Ramesis II initiated a 19-year long war with the Hittites of Anatolia.

The Israelites led by the woman Deborah and warrior Barak battle the Canaanite army of Sisera after 20 years of paying tribute. At the sight of the enormous Canaanite army with their iron chariots the Israelites nearly fled had not the prophetess Deborah intervened. (1) Josephus relates that a strange storm of mighty winds, hailstones and rain went hard against the Canaanites but aided the Israelites in battle. Believing God assisted them the Israelites routed the Canaanites and Sisera escaped to a Kenite woman's tent. While he slept she ran a tent nail through his head killing him, fulfilling the prophecy that Sisera would be killed by a woman. (2) This ended the 20 years of tribute. This was 670 years after birth of Abraham in 1947 BC, and 622 after the Babel Dispersion, 622 being half of 1244, a number serving as the signature of Israel throughout history. The newly emerging Egyptian Empire under Ramesis II seeks to crush the Hittite Dynasty seated at Babylon. Ramesis II marches out and interestingly passes by Israel, no doubt the Egyptians recalled the disastrous history between them and the Israelites and they had probably received intelligence concerning the defeat of Sisera and the Canaanites. On his way to Babylon Ramesis II is opposed by the Hittites and their vassal armies in the Battle of Kadesh where Ramesis II is defeated badly, his own army fleeing and leaving him alone. (1) The Battle of Kadesh (Holy City) is depicted upon the walls of the Ramesseum near Thebes and the temples of Luxor, Karnak, Abydos and Abu-Simbel. (2) The war resulted with a curious alliance. The Egypto-Hittite Treaty was a mutual-protection alliance prominently displayed at Thebes in Luxor and at Hattusas in Anatolia concerning a growing power in the Mediterranean Sea that threatened both Hittite and Egyptian security known to historians as the Sea People Federation who are specifically mentioned in the treaty. (3)

This emerging power was spread throughout the Mediterranean and Aegean and would lead to the famous Trojan War. This emerging power arose virtually overnight because the coastal cities of the Ancient World were receiving fleets of immigrants from the rapidly multiplying families of ~~Israk~~ Israel. This will be shown.

Ramesis II's invasion and Battle of Kadesh was exactly ~~288 years (144x2) after the Battle of Kadesh~~ ~~Thukosa~~ 666 years before 609 BC when Pharaoh Necho marched out against the king of Babylon only to be crushed. In the treaty with the Hittites we find mentioned a place called Dan with references to a goddess of Dan (4) in Phoenicia, who is called Asherah and Ashtoreth in the Old Testament texts. The Danites continued the worship of Baal and Asherah as seen in the Old Testament and they took this worship with them. In ancient Ireland they were the Tuatha de Danaan, people of the goddess Danu, they who brought Beltene to Ireland. ~~8~~ Assyria is a major concern of the Hittites at this time.

The ancient kingdom of Argos came to an end, originally founded by the sons of Noah and Naamah called the Anakim, a race of enormous people called giants in the Old Testament records. The local population was called Argives but the new dynasty was Mycenaean. The Argives assimilated waves of Achaenas from Palestine, escaping Canaanites and now the new Mycene Dynasty was founded, being that of the Danaan. These came from the Danaan and Achaean settlements and ports along the Phoenician coast. (1) These were a patriarchal people who challenged the Triple-Goddess of the locals, overrunning her shrines and annulling the ancient Medusan Calendar by replacing it with another. (2) It was these people from the Canaanite coasts that brought to Mycene a seven-day weekly calednar. (3) These invaders were herdsman and the early Greeks claim that it was these people from palestine that brought agriculture to the Peloponness. (4) The occupation of the peloponness by the Israelite Danaan was not an oppressive one. Outsiders and locals were allowed to marry into the Danaan families, to take Danaanite wives, and then be known as Danaanites themselves. (5) This practice was an ancient Israelite institution, they commonly accepting strangers into their population. Assimilation is a triat of Israel all the way through history to the founding and longevity of the United States of America in 1776 AD. Augustine mentions the beginning of the Mycene Dynasty in Varro's chronology as occurring during the rulership of Deborah over Israel. (6)

The calendrics for this year indicate the rise of a new dynasty. This was 1584 years (792+792) after the start of the preflood Anunnaki Dynasty in 2839 BC. Further, this was 552 years after the Abrahamic Covenant was confirmed in 1807 BC, the covenant that the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob would fill the earth and bless the nations of the world. What was occurring at this time was esstentially an Israelite renaissance throughout the Aegean and its coasts.

In this year occurred the first overseas H Israelite civil war known as the Seven Against Thebes. A hundred and twenty years earlier the Israelite Danaan flooded into the Aegean and took the city that they renamed Thebes. To the ancient post-Exodus Israelites the name Thebes invoked respect and authority as the capitol of Upper Egypt. Thebes was founded by a Phoenician called Cadmus according to Herodotus, about 1350 BC. But this description was given to any Semitic seafarer in antiquity. The Greek alphabet came to thebes by way of Phoenician. This account was considered mythical until in 1964 AD archaeologists at Thebes discovered in the Cadmeion Temple roll cylinders with ancient cuneiform signs, the first cuneiform texts ever found on Greek soil. (1) One of the seals was dated at about 1367-1346 BC (2), the exact time the Danites were moving in waves into the area.

Cadmus is a Semitic word meaning eastern and Thebes was the capitol of Boeotia. Robert Graves wrote that the Boeotians were a Semitic tribe that had earlier moved ~~from~~ from the Syrian plains up north to Cadmeia in Caria before crossing over the Aegean to seize Thebes. (3) Cadmus was allowed to marry Harmonia only after 8 years, a probationary period imposed by the locals. (4) The name Harmonia is suspect, a name reminding us of Mount Harmon in Israel.

When Cadmus arrived in Boeotia he fought ~~against~~ against the Pelasgians. (5) The Spartans were related to the Thebans and Cadmus and this we find intriguing. Later it will be found that the Spartans, called Lacedaemonians in antiquity, were related to the Jews, who were descended from Judah. This connection is further seen in that Thebes had as its emblem the Lion (6), as in Lion of the Tribe of Judah. The Spartans in early stories were said to be born from serpent's teeth. (7) The explanation is simple. Cadmus had a battle when he first ~~landed~~ landed and many of his men were killed. But this was merely the expeditionary force, with other fleets on the way. When the locals saw his losses immediately replenished with fresh and newer faces, a people with a battle standard of a serpent, the locals claimed that the soldiers were born from serpent's teeth. The Spartans even later wore a Serpent-Badge. (8) In fact, all the people of Cadmus had a serpent mark on their bodies by which they would know each other. (9) Anthropologists and historians have found throughout the Mediterranean, Aegean, Atlantic European and old MesoAmerican coasts it was long known that the first primeval seafaring race were identified by the Serpent. ~~A~~ A people that became rulers and civilizers everywhere. (10) This was the Israelite tribe of Dan, a name that means Judge and Ruler, and of whom the Scriptures reads that they remained in ships. The prophecy concerning Dan was that he would be A SERPENT BY THE WAY. Even Graves notes that the Theban customs reflect biblical customs of the priests at Jerusalem. (11)

In 1244 BC a change of kings occurred in Thebes, now a strong Israelite kingdom and member of the Sea People Federation. No other cities of ancient Greece were members of this powerful league of Mediterranean traders. Mycene of the Danaan who arrived much later than those that settled Canaan who were originally those that separated from ~~Israel~~ Israel centuries earlier sought to influence the Theban Dynasty. The population of Mycene was of Argives, Achaeans and Danaan who were on their way to becoming one people. Thebes, like later Sparta, were isolationists and not ~~wanted~~ in the habit of assimilation on a grand scale. When the Thebans chose a king not of the Mycene Dynasty's liking the Theban War began, a short conflict known as ~~the~~ the Seven Against Thebes. (12)

Mycenaea led seven armies of combined cities against the City of Seven Gates despite the appearance of omens and unfavorable sign in the heavens (comet) (13) The Thebans beat the attackers off in an embarrassing battle that was a main source of ridicule in the later Trojan War that would start five years later. ~~That~~ That the Thebans were descendants of the Israelites is seen in the calendrics: 1244 BC is half of ~~XXXX~~ 1288, the Annus Mundi year when the Israelites conquered the Canaanites in 1407 BC, Israel being badly outnumbered.

In this year the Sodom-Trojan Apocalyptic Comet Group passed through inner solar system and a comet was recorded in the annals of King Shalmaneser I as occurring in this year during a battle between the Assyrians and the Hittites. (14) The suffix ~~XXXX~~ -asar means "king" indicating that this Assyrian regent was called Shalmen the ~~king~~ King. (15) Later the Israelites would confuse his name for King Jedidiah, the one later known as Solomon the King.

1239 BC (2656 AM): 3344 Before Armageddon/ 4000 Anunnaki ~~Chronology~~ Chronology/ 3070 Phoenix Chronology/ 2800 Orbital Chronology/ 2200 Descent of Watchers/ 1600 Anunnaki Dynasty/ 1576 Anno Pyramid/ 1000 After Flood/ 660 After Babel/ 208 After Exodus/ 168 Year of Israel

In the 1000th year after the Great Flood and 4000th year of the Anunnaki Chronology the most widespread World War to afflict the nations occurred when King Agamemnon of Mycenaea passed over the Aegean sea with his armies of Achaeans, Argives and Danaoi (Danaan). This began the 10 year long Trojan War. Troy was ~~not~~ not at first a prime objective. The Pre-Greek forces first sacked and destroyed the coastal cities of Asia Minor and assaulted Ilium, the Trojan state. (1) Troy was a member of the Sea Peoples Federation and had control of the Black Sea trade of gold, silver, iron, cinnabar, timber for ships, linen, hemp, dried fish, oil and Chinese jade. (2) The rising new Israelite-descended Mycenaean Dynasty wanted free access to the Black Sea without Trojan naval blocking but King Priam of Troy denied this and the states of Asia Minor allied with Troy.

The pretext for war is said to ~~be~~ be the ~~and~~ abduction of Helen, Queen of Sparta. (3) According to Josephus in Antiquities (4) the Jews regarded the Spartans, called lacedaemonians as kin. In fact, the Seal of Sparta was the same as the Israelite tribe of Dan- an Eagle with a serpent in its ~~talons~~ talons. (5) Scholars assert that the Mycenaean and Spartans were blood-related. (6) The root of the Trojan War lied in the fact that for over a hundred years the Israelites, mostly of Dan and Zebulun, populated the coastal cities of the Aegean, Asia Minor south of Ilium and west of the sea. The Danaan filled the cities of Athens, Corinth, Thebes, Argos, Mycenae and Sparta- the whole Peloponness. The Danite royalty became the royalty of ancient Greekdom. The local Grakoi, Achaeans and Argives were under the power of the newly empowered Israelite dynasties and when the Spartan Queen was "kidnapped" the houses of the Danaan allied under the Israelite-Mycenaean king Agamemnon, whose name derives straight out of Egypt, as does the names Abydos and Thebes. The story is preserved in Homer's Iliad where the Danaan are mentioned exactly 147 times. (7) The name Homer derives from the Semitic omer, or the name Emer and the 147 may be a hint as to the origin of the Danaan, for Jacob (Israel) was 147 years old at his death. ~~and~~ Ancient texts are full of such codes.

The Hittite records name the Achaeans as the Ahhiyawa, and Troy is found as Wilusa. To the Greeks Troy was Ilios. Amazingly, a 13th century BC Hittite text reveals that there was a great controversy between the Hittites and Mycenaean over ~~Troy~~ Troy. (8) For Mycenaea to oppose the powerful Hittites reveals that the new Israelite-descended dynasties were indeed powerful. In Mycenaean records we find that the heroes of Trojan War fame considered mythological as the names of men in Mycenaean tablets. (9) The Hittite records relate that initially the Hittites and Achaeans were maintaining good relations. (10). Recall also that Mycenaea was priorly Argos, built by the sons of Noah called the Anak. Giants. This name is passed down in the form of wanax, a popular title for Mycenaean leaders at this time.

King Priam of Troy inherited the policy of his predecessor, King Laomdeon who implemented a blockade and monopoly on all Black Sea trade. ~~(The Greek Myths 672)~~ (11) With the hostility between Mycenaea and Thebes we are not surprised to learn that the Thebans took no part in the Trojan War. ~~(The Greek Myths 672)~~ (12)
