

1. 1) The Supreme Court's 2017 Bail Rules that created a revolving (I would push Legislation to extinguish those Rules) and 2) Our failing education system – reform our curriculum for high schoolers to prepare those that want to enter the workforce instead of going to college with the skills (trades etc) and knowledge to be successful at graduation.
2. I support the repeal of the 2017 Bail Rules noted above and criminal justice reform such as the Texas program of Right on Crime.
1. Break up CYFD and assign the various responsibilities to other agencies suited to take over those responsibilities.
2. See the response to the first question. You have to get CYFD out of the way of child well-being, they are the problem.
1. Our education system and its focus does not reflect our population. Mike Rowe recently discussed that the Country needs 50,000 new electricians in less than 5 years. Those are great paying jobs where people can support a family, instead we insist on forcing high schoolers into a one size fits all college preparatory education, and we got rid of auto shop, ag programs and other trade/technical curriculum.
2. Fully support vouchers, the money goes with kids hopefully to a school that will prepare them to be productive members of society that can support their families.
1. I think this a large scale problem that is driven by the profits of healthcare companies and insurance companies. Reforms to open up the market and get to real prices for goods and services need to be legislated.
2. Provider shortages are driven by many factors, ultimately we have to make the state more business friendly and make this a place where providers don't leave because of the education and crime problems.
1. We already balance those concerns, it is a false premise to argue that we don't already balance the environmental concerns in oil and gas production.
2. I am running for Lt. Governor, my energy policy is reduce unnecessary regulations and encourage energy production, all positive impacts.
1. Inflation from covid spending and wasteful government spending.

2. Abolish the income tax and the GRT, serious reforms with a DOGE-style review of every state agency with cuts.
1. They have all the rights. The state only has a constitutionally limited interest in protecting children from harm.
2. None, unless there has been a determination that the parents are abusing or neglecting the child.
1. I feel I have a moral obligation to try to use my talent and my time to make New Mexico a better place for our children.
2. I am the only lawyer in the race, but more importantly I am a civil rights lawyer that defends the Constitutional rights of citizens on a daily basis. I am better situated to hold our government and our Senate accountable to the Constitutions and to doing what is best for all New Mexicans.

Accidentally Omitted answers to Life Questions:

1. I am pro-life, as a lawyer I tend to focus on the legal aspects of the policy and take my guidance from faith, the women in my life, and science. One of the unfortunate aspects of the Supreme Court's decision overturning Roe was that they also unwound the decision in Casey v. Planned Parenthood, that case was honestly more important because it defined life in terms of personhood. I believe that the state has a obligation to protect the life of a person, I think science faith and morality guide when the state has obligation to protect the life of a person and NM's law abides taking the life of a person.
2. Absolutely no funding and they should regulate clinics to make sure that they are not operated in a dangerous or illegal fashion.
