Our Founders

My name is Keisha McCroskey, and I am excited to share my journey and the mission of my organization. As a Presidential award winner, I pride myself on being a resilient and determined individual dedicated to making a meaningful impact where it truly counts. Growing up in Harlem, New York, I have faced tremendous challenges, but I have emerged stronger and more committed to driving change in my community and beyond.

As a motivational speaker and community activist, I strive to inspire and uplift those facing adversity. My passion lies in helping others who share similar experiences, and I have a genuine desire to support and empower them. With a big heart, I am committed to doing whatever it takes to achieve my goals.

It has been said that the pursuit of happiness is a fundamental right for all. By giving someone the opportunity to chase their happiness, we may just discover our own in the process.
