Richard Sapper Hot Water Tea Kettle, Steel Bottom, 2 Liters

KETTLE IN 18/10 STAINLESS STEEL WITH MELODIC WHISTLE IN BRASS AND HANDLE IN PA, BLACK. MAGNETIC STEEL BOTTOM SUITABLE FOR INDUCTION COOKING.

CODE 9091 LIST $ 400

Kettle in stainless steel mirror polished with melodic whistle in brass and handle in PA, black. Magnetic steel heat diffusing bottom. This kettle was our first designer kettle, heralding a new season of kettle ideas for ourselves as well as many other kettle manufacturers. The true heart of this design is the brass whistle whose pipes sing two notes, mi and si, when the steam blows through them, giving a particularly attractive melody. Sapper wanted to avoid giving the kettles whistle the usual irksome sound of the other kettles on the market. And this purely musical requirement led to what I think can be described as Alessi's first multi-sensorial design. This object appeared in the movies: Generazione 1000 euro (Generazione 1000 euro, M.Venier, 2008); Niente da nascondere (Caché, M.Haneke, 2005).

Bulbul Hot Water Tea Kettle, 2.5 Liters

KETTLE IN 18/10 STAINLESS STEEL WITH HANDLE AND WHISTLE IN PA, BLACK. MAGNETIC STEEL BOTTOM SUITABLE FOR INDUCTION COOKING. ALESSI 100 VALUES COLLECTION.

CODE AC100 LIST $ 298

Bulbul is a perfect induction hob kettle imagined in the rounded shape of a curling stone: it presents a new way of handling this object, almost as if to suggest an invitation to play by sliding it across the kitchen surface. Bulbul reveals Achille Castiglioni's extraordinary ability to transfer qualities and functions into a project from objects belonging to entirely different spheres. This game of transfers has often resulted in the equally famous ironic dimension of many of his works.

DESIGNERS

ACHILLE CASTIGLIONI

Achille Castiglioni (1918-2002) was an Italian architect, designer and professor of design. He designed with an unmistakable blend of simplicity, irony and fun, with a close interest in the way objects are used and the potential offered by the use of technology and new materials. Considered one of the great masters of Italian design, he was a founding member of ADI in the 1950's. Throughout his lifetime, Castiglioni received many awards and distinctions for his designs, including 8 Compasso d'Oro awards as well as the Compasso d'Oro Career Award. His designs are held in museum collections around the world.

ALDO ROSSI

Aldo Rossi (1931–1997) was an internationally recognized and influential architect and designer, and was one of the leading proponents of the postmodern movement. He was the first Italian to receive the Pritzker Prize for architecture in 1990, and is considered by many to be the greatest Italian architect of the second half of the 20th century. An author of abstraction, reduction and brevitas, his severe language of primary shapes, geometrical patterns and silent evocation created some of the most intensely poetic works of architecture and design in his age. Ada Louise Huxtable, architectural critic and Pritzker juror, has described Rossi as "a poet who happens to be an architect."

Pito Hot Water Tea Kettle, 1.8 Liters

KETTLE IN 18/10 STAINLESS STEEL MIRROR
POLISHED WITH HANDLE AND CAP WITH MELODIC
WHISTLE IN MAHOGANY WOOD.

CODE 90031 LIST $ 610

"I started to draw fish. Without any specific goal, I discovered that I loved them and that they gave the sense of movement that you get in classical sculptures or in some Indian figures."
(Frank Gehry)

Pito is a stainless steel kettle designed by Frank Gehry. The melodic top and the handle in mahogany have the stylized shape of two darting fishes. The melody produced by the whistle is likewise peculiar, it sounds like a whale's song. Gehry turned a kitchen tool into a fascinating poetic object.
