

Jason Terwey

Provider (Bachelor)

Jason has spent 30 + years serving the public in various human or social service roles. Those include, Corrections Security Case Manager, Intensive Supervised Release Parole Officer, Corrections Chemical Dependency Therapist, Corrections Sex Offender Program Therapist, Corrections Security Officer, Mental Health Counselor (schizophrenic population) and a CISM (Critical Incident Stress Management) team member. In his personal life, he has volunteered and coached and officiated countless youth sports for over 35 years.

In addition to his case management and client supervision responsibilities, he has developed programs designed to support people who have experienced acute, cumulative, or collective trauma or grief and loss. He has extensive experience and skills in working with clients in areas specific to anger management, cognitive skills, life skill building, chemical dependency recovery and developing healthy sexual thoughts, boundaries, and behaviors.

Jason is motivated both professionally and personally to use his interpersonal skills and professional and life experiences to make a difference in the lives of others. He believes strongly in a supportive mentor model to life that provides opportunities for those that seek or need support to have the opportunity to both heal and thrive in life. His decades of supporting people have taught him the importance of individualizing support which can often be difficult when systems or red tape create barriers to individualized support needs. His knowledge of government and justice or human service processes has been critical in navigating the individual support needs of those he has worked with during his career. He believes that some people just need a little additional support and a second or third chance in life. He believes that people should never be defined by the worst thing that they have ever done or the worst thing that has ever happened to them. Jason has experienced both professional and personal trauma and grief and loss which has helped shaped the lens he uses to connect and support others. He is passionate about making a difference especially in the lives of young men or adult men who might benefit from his specialized support style.

Finally, as a husband, father of 4 and grandfather of 3, he is acutely aware, that by supporting our community and those in our communities, it makes the community where his family lives a safer and healthier world to live life in and grow up in.

CCS Service Arrays

Individual Skill Development and Enhancement

Wellness and Recovery

Psychoeducation

Counties Served

Chippewa, St. Croix, Barron, Polk, Pepin,

Dunn, Pierce, Burnett, and Washburn.

Speciality Areas

Ex-Offender Reintegration

Working with People with Severe Trauma and Associated Diagnoses (PTSD, RAD, ODD, CD, APD).

Life Skills and Coping Strategies

Chemical Dependency Recovery

Teaching Appropriate Sexual Boundaries

Anger Management Skills

