Chamber Member of the Month

Open since September as well as having their Grand Opening on June 14th, owner Kevin Bradley hasn't slowed down. Due to heavy demand of his luscious BBQ, he has recently added an additional day to be open. He is now open Wednesday through Sunday from 11am, until sell out. Get there early, before your favorites are gone! Is it possible that he may be opening another location or broadening his menu slightly? Yes and Yes. He plans on adding new menu items soon, as well as a catering truck/ trailer allowing him to take his BBQ Catering on the road and to festivals. With their 1 year anniversary just around the corner, Kevin is looking forward to the future and seeing his hard work pay off. They offer several meal packages to accommodate the hungry family, so plan ahead and order yours today. Ask about his Football Special and Platters!

Back to School = Back to Business

Back to School can be a crazy time of the year for most families. Long days of preparing and gathering school supplies, getting kids in tune with new schedules as well as reorganizing your day to include the many afterschool activities that come with keeping kids active and healthy. Here we share tips on how to market your business with little or no effort.

If your kids play after school sports, think about sponsoring a team or a team banner. Share product samples with other parents on the sidelines. Offer to assist with a fundraiser. While striking up conversation, always be prepared to offer up information about your business and services offered. Don't be overpowering, remember this isn't a sales call. Keep your information short and open to questions. If the person shows interest, share a little more., if not—change the subject. Remember you are there to be supportive, not a salesman. By stepping outside of your comfort zone, you will see results if you are consistent.

“If you don't drive your business, you will be driven out of business”.
