November 2018

Presenting the 2018 Boo Crew

Halloween Day was our quilt delivery to Northeast Georgia Medical Center Pediatrics Unit.

Helping us was an employee, a relative and resident of Lanier Village Estates. Next were three of the 7 dwarfs who work at Peach State Bank and last was Betty and Lorrie of Quilts for Kids.

We delivered quilts to 4 children and visited the Infusion Center and the nurses of Labor and Delivery.

Below is 7 month old Brayden and his Dad and on the right is some of the crew looking on.

Read on to see more of October's happenings.

One stitch, one quilt, one kid at a time...

Our October workshop at First Baptist was spent sorting the leftover squares accumulated over the year. Lorrie and Betty G. are seen here. Other volunteers were there sewing or cutting kits.

For lunch we celebrated Halloween early so I could use some of my decorations. If you haven't heard, I love Halloween. (See page 4)

From Quilts for Kids' Headquarter's newsletter:

Over 4,000!

Betty Wright's North Georgia chapter has donated over 4,000 quilts in the 6-1/2 years they have been in existence.

Even the tiniest patients look happy, wrapped in a QFK quilt!

As the chapter grows, North Georgia has added another children's hospital to their list: Hughes Spaulding, joining Egleston and Scottish Rite, which are all Children's Healthcare of Atlanta (CHOA) in different sections of the city.

Kudos to all those fine Georgia quilters!

The Quilt Mobile on Halloween night

My son, Ben was the hit of his neighborhood. Glad I could help give those kids memories.
