

Quilts for Kids:

Volunteer quilters transforming fabrics into patchwork quilts that comfort children in need

Northeast Georgia Chapter

August 2013

Is everyone having a wonderful Summer? I can't believe it's almost over! One good thing for me is that I have been able to sew almost every day and have completed many projects that I wanted to do for my family. I also have taken a couple of classes to add to my technique tool box which has kept me inspired and motivated.

Now for the chapter news: As you might expect, things are slower during the summer and the good news is the patient count is down at the hospital too. But we are progressing with our finished quilts, and will be ready to comfort the sick little kids on the pediatric floor. Thanks to all who continue to support us as they can.

For your information is a chart of our progress for 2012 and so far this year. Aren't you proud of all we have done?

And to honor our latest group of recipients of quilts, the newborn who have graduated from NICU but can't go home yet, I'd like to share this poem...

Betty Wright, Chapter Leader

Ten little fingers
Ten little toes
The sweetest of smiles
And a cute little nose
All these add up
To a wonderful thing-
A baby-
The greatest gift
Life can bring.

The finished kits and donated quilts this month.

For quilt delivery on July 26th Maggie M. (pictured above) and her Grandmother Judy assisted me to deliver 8 quilts to 4 babies and 4 older kids including Matthew (see next page) who is one of her classmates. (Small world, huh?)

12 year old Matthew chose this "All Sports" quilt which gave him a huge smile.

2 year old Sophia
chose the Fairy quilt.
