

Quilts for Kids:

Volunteer quilters transforming fabrics into patchwork quilts that comfort children in need

Northeast Georgia Chapter

September 2019

August is almost gone, and so is the Summer.

Where did it go? I guess I missed it because I was focused on finding a new house and moving into it. Autumn is a great season and since it's my favorite, maybe I'll see some of it. Ahhh, leaves changing colors, football games, cooler weather.....

And this will be the view from my sewing room OR back porch.. (those dots are cows)

News from the chapter is, we are in great shape as the fabric has been organized and there's plenty of it. We'll start cutting more kits soon. As for the finished quilts, the stash is building up to get ready for flu season. Thanks to all the ladies who have been sewing quilts this summer and turning them in.

While delivering quilts at the hospital today, I was able to visit with the mom of one of our patients whom I haven't seen in 10 months. He is 19 and an only child and his mom is totally devoted to his care. Experiencing her optimistic outlook would touch anyone's heart. I'm so glad to know her and call her my friend. This job of spreading cheer has come back to me many times in bigger ways. Know that the work we do by making our little quilts has made more than the kids happy. Mothers and Dads are grateful too.

Enjoy your Labor Day weekend. I'll be celebrating my firstborn's 48th birthday. Happy birthday Ben, our webmaster. How did you get to be so old?

From Nicholson

Here's an example of the use of fabric scraps to make wonderful quilts:

"I promise not to buy any more fabric until I finish my UFO's ... Or until I clean my sewing room ... Or until I organize my fabric ... Or until I uncross the fingers on my other hand"
