

Quilts for Kids:

Volunteer quilters transforming fabrics into patchwork quilts that comfort children in need

Northeast Georgia Chapter

May 2015

April has been another busy month for our chapter. The two workshops in Gainesville were well attended with the Hopewell site topping their previous amount of finished/donated quilts. This time they turned in 34 quilts. Thanks to the Guild in Cleveland for all their work and donations.

Fabric donations were also of note this month. See page 8 for a list of donors. Totally, there were 72 yards of fabric given and a crib batting and a queen batting. Thanks to everyone for sharing with us.

And finally we were able to visit Children's Healthcare of Atlanta-Egleston and Scottish Rite hospitals. We are not allowed to see the kids, but the volunteers at the front desk were grateful for the 32 quilts we delivered. This is our kick-off donation to begin our monthly donations to CHOA. Thanks to Ilona for offering to deliver and host the Suwanee workshop each month.

Kits are bring cut and assembled as usual, but we also have scraps from previously cut kits. These have been cut by Margaret McG into the largest square or strip possible and stored by size. Let me know if you'd like some scraps to make a kid's quilt by your own pattern.

Now read on to see what else happened in April.

Seven month old Aubrey had been looking up at her new quilt that I hung on the end of the bed. Oops, she looked down just as I snapped the camera. Isn't she a cutie?
