A MINORITY-OWNED PROFESSIONAL TRAINING AND MENTORSHIP FIRM

The barriers facing people of color in their professional careers are substantial and historic. Affinity groups aren't enough: what's really needed is mentorship, positive modeling, and connection to community -- and that's precisely what we provide.

We create and facilitate customized training and mentorship programs for corporate diversity groups, specifically new graduate programs, internship programs and employee resource groups, as well as for universities and organizations that empower communities of color.

Our masterclasses and mastermind groups combine personal empowerment, professional development and inspirational mentorship and have been offered in companies, colleges and conferences across the globe.

We shape the people who shape the world!
