

The original kitchen was very dark with original builder grade cabinets, appliances, and poor lighting. There was a large shallow display area that left too little room for a pantry and larger appliances. The updated design kept the kitchen the same size. Redesigned with efficient use of space solutions, it solved all of the problem areas despite the small footprint. We used all wood stock cabinetry in a creative way that resulted in a custom cabinet feel. Including a built-in fridge, wine chiller on the end of the island, double ovens, and the amazing Wolf cooktop. The redesign included a small coffee center and a full-size pantry with pullout drawers. We lengthened the island to add the wine fridge and addressed seating by putting in an elliptical countertop. We also updated all the lighting including LED can lights, LED under cabinet lighting, and lighting above the cabinets. There are Rev-A-Shelf organizers throughout this kitchen. The countertops are quartz with a simple beveled subway backsplash and accent feature over the stove. The floors were refinished on the first floor to accommodate the slight footprint changes. We also finished a walkup 3rd floor attic space as a kid hang out zone and conditioned storage.
