The Beginning of a Peace Treaty?

Stunning Israel-UAE Deal Uponds the 'Rules' About Peace-Making in Middle East. Setting aside a focus on the Israeli-Palestinian conflicts to work on the region's other priorities, marks a fundamental shift that just might work. The peace agreement between Israel and the United Arab Emirates represents a fundamental shift in the paradigm of peace-making. For more than 50 years, that paradigm has been based on the assumption that the Israeli-Palestinian conflict was the core dispute in the Middle East. Resolve it and peace would reign throughout the region. This premise has largely been dispelled. (timesofisrael.com 8/15)

Why UAE Struck a Deal With Israel and Why It Matters.

Since its creation as a Jewish state in 1948, Israel has been isolated from nearly every other country in the predominantly Muslim Middle East. While Egypt and Jordan made peace with Israel, other Arab countries have said they would withhold recognition pending information of a separate Palestinian state in the West Bank and Gaza Strip, territories Israel conquered in the 1967 war. Unlike Jordan and Egypt, the UAE never fought in any of the six Arab-Israeli wars.

Abu Dhabi Crown Prince Mohammed Bin Zayed pointed to Israel's agreement to halt its annexation plan as a key factor behind normalization. Analysts argue that mutual distrust of Iran, especially its regional ambitions and nuclear program, were the more decisive catalyst.

Although trade between Israel and its neighbors Jordan and Egypt never boomed despite normalization, it's expected to be different with the UAE, a federation of seven emirates. Dennis Ross, a former Middle East peace envoy for the U.S., wrote in the Washington Post that the UAE's move "should also signal to Palestinians that others that they are not going to wait for them" to make peace with Israel.

Fear or Faith — Anxiety or Peace

2020 has been a year like no other. There is a convergence of many prophetic signs all at the same time. The demonic spirit of antichrist is creating rage. There are riots in many countries, hatred, murders, a global pandemic, huge fires, extreme weather all over the globe setting many records, many earthquakes and volcanoes. Our lives have been turned upside down by the pandemic.

So, do we trust God and rest in HIS peace, or will we suffer with anger, fear, anxiety, depression. The choice is ours to make.

First and foremost, have we prepared according to Scriptures for the rapture? If all is well with our souls, we can have His peace that passes all understanding. The Scriptures from two thousand years ago tell us what would come in the last days. We are the end-time saints and should look up. The catching away of the church is very near. It should be a time of great joy, anticipating the glorious future of the church.

COVID Death Stats ... Inaccurate or Just Misleading? New information from the CDC says 94% of reported coronavirus-related deaths had underlying medical conditions – meaning that for the other 6%, COVID-19 was the only cause mentioned. In some areas an auto-accident victim or a heart-attack victim who tested positive for covid is listed as a covid death. Thus the US death rate compared with other countries is totally unreliable. FedCoin: A New Digital Dollar Scheme For Tyranny Coming Soon? If some Congress members get their way, the Federal Reserve may soon be able to track your purchases in real time and share that information with government agencies. China and EU. With issues on trade and human rights moving increasingly to the fore, many European officials are now "describing what they once saw hopefully as a partnership as more of a rivalry" (Foreign Policy, June 25, 2020).

One China specialist from the Netherlands has stated, "the EU wants to show that it is time for a change, time for a recalibration of the relationship, and that it is time for China to give more." What is behind the growing distance between Europe and China, and where will this ultimately lead? Bible prophecy points out a potential rivalry between the European "beast" power and the "kings from the east" that will eventually descend on the beast-controlled Holy Land. The kings from the East will very likely include China. (twnews&prophecy.com 8/14)
