UFOs

Today, by order of the President, the US Department of War released images and renderings of UFOs. As a Bible believer, I look at these things through the lens of Scripture, not Hollywood, science fiction, or government narratives. The Bible tells us that before creation, "the earth was without form and void." In other words, there was no ancient extraterrestrial civilization roaming the universe before God created the heavens and the earth. At the same time, Scripture is very clear that there are spiritual entities beyond the human realm. Paul writes in Ephesians 6 about "principalities, powers, and spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places." So if these entities are real, and if they are not part of God's earthly creation, then there are only two possibilities: angelic or demonic. Holy angels serve the Lord and carry out His will. Demons serve Satan, the father of lies and the author of confusion. That is why the darkness, fear, deception, and mystery surrounding the entire UFO and extraterrestrial phenomenon lead me to one unavoidable conclusion, this is not from God. I believe it is demonic.

Once Christ's Bride is removed from the earth, with some "Christians" still remaining, and the ungodly searching for answers for the disappearance of many, can you imagine news headlines stating millions were caught away by UFOs?

Family Month vs Pride Month

More States Signing on to the Movement of Using June to Celebrate Traditional Family Values.

The governors of Indiana and Tennessee rebranded June as Nuclear Family Month to celebrate units made up of "one husband, one wife and any biological, adopted or fostered children." In Alabama, it's Strong Families Month is intended to coincide with Father's Day. Gov. Ivey's proclamation says fathers are "the head of the household" and "homes led by a father and mother provide children with the structure and discipline necessary to succeed throughout life." The governors of Utah and Arkansas deemed it Fidelity Month, which emphasizes fidelity to faith, country and family. In Wenatchee, Washington, a school's Turning Point USA chapter was able to get Family Month banners posted on light poles that in the past had displayed rainbow flags during June. The resolution approved by Tennessee's legislature and governor does not mention Pride Month specifically, while saying the "nuclear family is under attack in our beloved state and nation." Lawmakers in at least four other states have introduced legislation this year calling for June to be Fidelity Month. Last year, US Rep. Mary Miller from Illinois introduced a resolution to make June Family Month, and to unrecognize Pride Month, saying "Americans are inundated with perverse Pride Month displays and events throughout the month of June that denigrate the nuclear family." ### Disney Under FCC Investigation for Racist and Sexist Hiring Practices.

The FCC has been investigating Disney for over a year now after reports surfaced alleging that it had been discriminating against people based on race, gender, or other protected characteristics in violation of federal nondiscrimination laws. The allegations include concerns about Disney hiring, promoting, compensating, and providing or denying workplace opportunities based on protected characteristics. In a very short period of time, Disney went from one of the most beloved brands on the planet, a brand every decent parent trusted and appreciated, to a demonic grooming syndicate desperate to poison the innocence of children with a relentless queering crusade behind the backs of parents. This went so far as to demand that gay porn be part of the elementary school curriculum in Florida. (Breitbart.com 5/30)

Welcome to New York's Socialist Housing Experiment.

For generations, owning property in America represented more than wealth. It represented stability, freedom, responsibility, and the belief that if you worked hard enough, you could build something that truly belonged to you. That principle is now increasingly under attack -- and few recent examples have alarmed property owners more than the housing agenda being promoted by New York City's mayor Zohran Mamdani. At the center of the controversy is Mamdani's proposal to target buildings deemed to have suffered from "chronic neglect" and transfer ownership away from private landlords to so-called "responsible stewards," including nonprofit organizations, community land trusts, and even tenant groups themselves. Supporters frame the plan as accountability for bad landlords. But the deeper concern is who gets to define "neglect," who decides when ownership rights are forfeited, and what happens when government gains broad authority to seize or redirect private property. It becomes a broader ideological battle over socialism itself. Throughout history, socialist movements have consistently advanced the idea that private ownership is inherently unfair or exploitative. The solution, they argue, is redistribution through government action. Sometimes it comes through taxation. Sometimes through regulation. Sometimes through nationalization. And increasingly, in American cities, it comes through housing policy. Critics warn that once government gains the power to determine that a building is "mismanaged enough" to justify transferring ownership, no property owner is truly secure. (pnw.com 5/30)

Global Attacks Against Christianity

Finland: Singing About God at School is Now 'Discrimination'.

How far can a nation go in protecting people from being offended before it starts criminalizing its own heritage? (prophecynewswatch.com 6/2)

Christianity in the Age of Algorithms.

Many Christians consume biblical teaching in the same way they consume every other form of online content. Instead of sustained study, theology can become fragmented into short clips and brief emotional moments. Sermons become thirty-second videos. Complex doctrine becomes condensed into catchy quotes.

Difficult passages become reduced to simplistic explanations. (prophecynewswatch.com 6/1)

The New Gospel of Inclusion is Disrupting Christian Music.

Some Christian artists appear determined to redefine Christian music's purpose. Instead of pointing people toward God's standards, they seek to reshape God's standards around modern cultural values. (pnw.com 6/1)

Religious Studies Students Denied Virginia State Tuition Assistance.

Three Virginia students are continuing their legal fight after being denied state-funded tuition assistance

Canada Parliament Adopts New Hate Crime Bill Amid Speech and Religious Freedom Concerns.

The Canadian parliament on Thursday adopted the Combating Hate Act, by 45-13 vote. The act outlaws the "willful promotion of hatred" such as display of symbols of terrorist entities, among other hate symbols. Intimidation: conduct "with the intent to provoke a state of fear." (jurist.org 6/6)

The Euphrates and More

Israeli Minister: Turkey Should be Treated as an 'Enemy State,' Could Become Israel's Next Major Adversary.

Given Israel and America's war with Iran, it is unsettling to contemplate the ramifications of any confrontation with Turkey. This is precisely why it isn't prudent to enable obvious enemies of the West to escalate tensions with states that are our allies in the first place. Turkey as a member of NATO is one such an example. Consider the following news headlines:

> Turkish journalist close to Erdogan: Turkey should become a nuclear power and consider nuking Israel

> Turkey: 'Israel cannot live without hostility,' warns Israel that it 'may target it next'

> Turkish president Erdogan accuses Israel of 'atrocities' against Palestine and Lebanon, threatens to attack

> Russia, China, Turkey pushing for immediate end of war against Iran.

Is Turkey 'the new Iran'? A top Israeli strategic analyst thinks so and warns about dire implications of Trump's support of Turkish forces in Gaza. We know that in Ezekiel 38 Turkey is listed as one of the nations that will invade Israel. (jihadwatch.com 5/21)

The Euphrates River is Drying Up! "Satellite data collected documented a staggering loss of 144 cubic kilometers, roughly 34 cubic miles, of freshwater from the Tigris-Euphrates basin" (Israel365News 5/13). A 2021 Iraqi Ministry of Water Resources report warned that the river could be dry by 2040. Sixty million people across Syria, Turkey, and Iraq rely on water from the Euphrates River, and it has provided 85% of Syria's agricultural water. Hotter and dryer weather contribute to the problem, as do the river's many dams, which siphon water before it reaches locations further downstream. The Euphrates River has 22 dams in Turkey alone! This event was prophesied by John in Rev. 16:23

"And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared." The kings of the east will cross the Euphrates for access to an invasion of Israel during the Great Tribulation, and based on other prophecies, it will likely happen much sooner than 2040. (todaysworldnews&prophecy.com 5/29)

Ukraine's Attack on St. Petersburg Shocks Russia. A Ukrainian drone strike sent an unmistakable message to President Putin: No where in Russia is beyond Ukraine's reach. The attack came just hours before the opening of the St. Petersburg International Economic Forum, Putin's signature annual event designed to showcase Russia's economic strength and project an image of stability despite more than four years of war in Ukraine. Instead, delegates arriving in Putin's hometown were greeted by images of a burning oil terminal and disruptions across the city, creating a dramatic and embarrassing backdrop for one of the Kremlin's most important international gatherings. ### Godzilla El Niño Could Absolutely Devastate Global Food Production.

The waters of the Pacific Ocean are getting extremely warm, and that could provide fuel for an immensely destructive climate event of heat and drought that is unlike anything we have ever seen before. Even the UN has issued an ominous warning about the El Niño event that is in the long-term forecast, because it will have a dramatic global impact on everyone. We are being told that there is more than an 80% chance that El Niño conditions will arrive by the end of next month due to rapidly warming equatorial waters in the Pacific. (pnw.com 6/4)

World Cup, Ebola, and Bioengineered Mosquitoes: A New Era of Biological Risk?

As America prepares to welcome millions of visitors from all parts of the globe for the 2026 FIFA World Cup, a dangerous Ebola outbreak is spreading through central Africa. Global health officials are rushing to develop a new vaccine using mRNA technology. At the same time, Google-backed researchers are seeking permission to release up to 32 million specially modified mosquitoes into parts of Florida and California. Individually, each of these stories raises important questions. Together, they paint a picture of a world entering a new era where biological threats, biotechnology, global travel, artificial intelligence, and public trust are all colliding. (prophecynewswatch.com 6/3)

The Great Pacific Garbage Patch. In the Pacific Ocean is a swirl of plastic trash more than twice the size of Texas or three times the size of France. Microplastics float on the surface but also exist in water columns that reach to the ocean floor. (twnews&pro.com 5/22)
