

Fergus Foran Press Bio

Fergus Foran is a multidisciplinary creative, producer, and performer. He is the creator of Most Peculiar Dreams, an original Irish American musical that has sold out major venues and surpassed one million digital streams. As founder of Double F Music Productions, Fergus supports original theatre, live recording, and musical innovation. His performance credits span CBS, film, folk, gospel, and Irish traditional ensembles. He has composed for award-winning short films, mentored young artists internationally, and directed some of Ireland's most beloved vocal ensembles. Fergus is currently developing two new musicals: Transit Umbra and The Kantranox Return and continues to champion the role of music and storytelling in shaping cultural identity and connection.
