CELEBRATING
40 YEARS!

1985

In 1985, Revo started a new era of performance sunglasses.

Our story starts in 1985 with one man, optical engineer and avid skier Dr. Mitch Ruda, and one unique idea:

Adapt space-based technology to create high performance eyewear.

History

With this revolutionary finding, Dr. Ruda created the Revo NASA Light Management System™.

Each Revo lens has multiple coatings for the highest level of protection, the sharpest possible vision and all-day comfort.

And it worked.

The same coatings NASA used on satellite porthole windows as protection from space radiation, now forms the basis of Revo's proprietary lens technology.

2025

Now 40 years later, the first-ever performance eyewear still has the Best Lens on Earth.

The Revo NASA Light Management System™

Learn more about the composition of the Revo lens.

REVO LENS SUMMARY

Revo Lenses

For over 40 years, Revo has been synonymous with unmatched lens performance. From sunglasses to goggles, we deliver perfect vision and all-day comfort by seamlessly pairing the ideal lens material with every frame.

Serilium™

Serilium™ is a polarized, polymer-based, multi-layer mirror coated sun lens developed by Revo. It is featherlight and high-impact resistant.

Serilium Photochromic™

A light-adaptive version of Revo's most sought-after Serilium™ colors. These lenses adapt to external light conditions, changing from light to dark tint for optimal visual experience.

Serilium+™

Serilium+™ is a nylon-based, multi-layer mirror-coated polarized Revo sun lens. It is lightweight and impact-resistant and offers premium optical performance, similar to crown glass.

Crystal Glass

Revo's heritage premium lens ground and polished to the quality of a camera lens. Featuring shatter-proof "sandwich technology", two thin layers of glass are fused together allowing for thinner and lighter lenses than the traditional glass options.
