To The Parents...

Reaching this milestone in the AIM journey is one we've talked about for many years.

Never did I think that our 30th season would accompany a once in a century pandemic, paralyzing in person instruction, and forcing us to build an entirely different way of teaching dance. Thursday, March 12, 2020 we said goodbye to the students to what we thought was just a spring break. We had no idea the twists & turns that were ahead. We were transferred into a different world of separation, silence, panic, and zoom. The challenges have been overwhelming, terrifying, eye opening, and life changing.

All these months later, as I am able to reflect and observe the terrain we traveled through, it becomes clearer than ever just how extraordinary our AIM family truly is. As I look back, I see endless amounts of perseverance. The students clung to dance as if it was their life preserver, and I clung to the students, knowing they were mine. We learned, we laughed, we cried, we loved...

Now that we are almost through the exit door of this hardship, my mind has somehow jumped over the gate of this past year's memories & back to where we first began. I have received reminders from so many alumni students, with pictures and remembrances from as far back as 1991. It has filled my heart with indescribable joy and taken my eyes back to viewing the landscape of where it started and the longevity we have managed to sustain. I had no idea the journey that was ahead when Chad & I followed Mr. Albert Schnepf through the doors to that old Clinton Daily Journal Building in the summer of 1991. The moment he handed me the key is precisely when AIM came to life. What began as pure imagination has endured because of loads of encouragement, loyalty, and blessings from God. I am overwhelmed at how He has used this landscape to grow so much more than dance.

May all of us grasp the reason to stop the frantic pace, take our children in our arms and for a few moments hold them and the music. Dance truly is a magical gift that you have given them. Our children carve so much onto our hearts before they are suddenly all grown up. May watching them on stage, showing their hard work and dedication unfold, transport you into a moment of pure happiness, appreciation, and pride for their precious performance.

May it also be discovered on this journey of life that the purpose is the same as it has been since time began... that we are all alike, with arms to embrace with hugs, mouths to speak words of encouragement, and hearts to love unconditionally. That we all are in need of love on a daily basis regardless of our position, race, religion, or any other difference. I pray that AIM is a place where your children can feel this purpose alongside their dance training. That is the true legacy that will hold true in their hearts for years to come.

It is not possible to express the deep gratitude I feel for each and every one of you, as well as those who have journeyed this path with us for many years, and those from the very beginning. Words do not exist that can express my thankfulness for your loyalty, trust, and support in my love for teaching dance and my dream that has come to pass of making AIM a place of comfort, acceptance, happiness, and love. May you be blessed this special day, and may it be a wonderful memory that your family will always have. Thank you for this journey... thank you for every new mile.

Abundant Blessings,
Tricia Trimble

Being able to have a recital as a senior despite this crazy pandemic year is such a blessing. Recital is one of the most special times of the year for everyone involved. Hello! My name is Annabeth Cowsert and I am an AIM Alum from the class of 2017. I just finished my Bachelor of Arts in Dance from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. My focus for my degree was to discover how dance and somatic practices can assist patients in the world of occupational therapy. My research entitled "Occupational Therapy and the Missing Link of the Mind-Body Connection", shows the possibilities that dance can have in OT. I have been accepted to the University of Mary Occupational Therapy Doctorate program which I will start in the fall of 2021. I will be moving to Bismarck, ND. I plan to further my dance degree by teaching at Northern Plains Dance Studio in Bismarck.

While at the UMKC Conservatory, Tori had the opportunity to work with Broadway artist Ray Mercer and former New York City Ballet principal dancer Nilas Martins. Her junior year, she performed a solo choreographed by Leni Wylliams at the Conservatory's largest annual fundraiser in the Kauffman Center for Performing Arts. Additionally, Tori was one of three dancers selected to travel to Edinburgh, Scotland and perform in the 2019 Fringe Festival. She also performed professionally with the Wylliams Henry Contemporary Dance Company and Tristian Griffin Dance Company.
