Holistic Horsemanship Institute of America™

HHIA is located at 6000 Hidden Acres Road, House Springs, MO, 63051. We are off Highway MM between Highway 30 and Highway 21. Most GPS systems pick up our address, except:

If you use Google as your GPS mapping system, do not enter the address as it takes you to the back of our property in a subdivision about ten minutes' drive from our front gate. Instead, enter the business name.

Finding Hidden Acres Road:

Hidden Acres Road is a private road and therefore there is no street sign. It is directly across from the entrance to the Northwest Athletic Association, which does have a road sign: "N.W.A.A." There are several mailboxes on MM, including ours, with a sign for Holistic Horsemanship on it. Once on our road, HHIA signs will take you the rest of the way!

A note about our gate: Our property is gated, but not locked. Please leave the gate as you find it (if closed, close it after you drive through).

A note about the Hidden Acres Road:

The main hill to our farm can seem intimidating for those who drive only in the city. Please note that our students drive everything from the Prius and Corvette, to vans, SUVs and 4-wheel drive vehicles. All navigate the hill well, but most need a little instruction.

I recommend taking the hill at 10mph minimum to avoid spinning your wheels and therefore, tearing up the road. The adage "you are not stuck until you are stopped," applies here. Once you are at the top of the hill, the rest of the road is paved with asphalt millings.
