AUDIT EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

The Lakeside Farm is a conventional watermelon farm located in Laurel, DE. No farm work was being done on the day of the audit. The adjacent land consists of wooded area, cropland, a small local airport to the North, and sparse residential homes to the West and South of the farm. The season for the farm, from plant to harvest, is April to July for Watermelon. The water source at the farm is Well water, which is used for irrigation, fertigation, and chemical applications. The crop is irrigated with a sub-surface drip line. Overhead irrigation is not used at this operation. The farm is approximately 65ac.
