

Desiderio's Dinner Theatre at Bobby J's Presents

A Comedy/Farce
By Peter Shaffer
(author of Amadeus)

Directed by Jay Desiderio

A comedy that takes place in the middle of a BLACKOUT.

The premise of the piece is that light and dark are transposed, so that when the stage is lit the cast are supposed to be in darkness and when the stage is dimmed or dark the cast are able to see each other and their surroundings.

Lovesick and desperate, sculptor Brinsley Miller has borrowed some expensive antique furniture and priceless artwork from his absent high-strung neighbor without his permission to impress his fiancée's pompous father and a wealthy art collector. However, a blackout occurs plunging the apartment into darkness. Unexpected guests arrive at the worst possible moments launching the young sculptor into frantic attempt to return things as they were before light is restored. This production features some of Buffalo's finest talent: Jeremy Kreuzer, Justyne Harris, Lisa Hince, & John Profeta to name a few.

"One of the funniest and most brilliant short plays in the language."
