Policy: RULES – YOUTH CODE OF CONDUCT

RATIONALE:

The “K.I.S.” Principle (Keep It Simple) seems to be the most effective method of enforcing rules. Most youth are resistant to going to a place where there are a lot of rules. Many couldn’t be bothered and will simply go elsewhere. We have found that one rule can cover most areas of concern within the youth centre.

TREAT ONE ANOTHER, THE CENTRE, AND THE EQUIPMENT WITH RESPECT.

This rule covers:

- Language
- Vandalism
- Physical and verbal aggression
- Misuse of equipment
- Other forms of disrespect (racism, sexism, etc.)
- Horseplay (in inappropriate areas)

There still needs to be the basic rules about smoking, drugs and alcohol, but most youth expect these types of rules and rarely have difficulties understanding the need for them.

There will always be youth that have difficulty following even these rules, and consequences will need to be developed when this occurs. If a youth is not demonstrating respect, the staff/volunteer should privately discuss the situation and explain why the behaviour is not respectful and therefore breaking the youth centre’s primary rule.

By documenting the consequences and following policies and standard procedures, it is easier to ensure youth will be given equal and fair treatment.

There are three types of infractions of YC rules:

- 1) Minor infractions, and
- 2) Major infractions
- 3) Illegal action

1. Minor Infractions

- Foul language
- Horseplay in inappropriate areas
- Misuse of equipment
- Racist, sexist, homophobic, offensive comments
- Inappropriate comments on drugs, alcohol and violence
- Verbal arguments between youth
- Not following staff directions
- Disrespectful attitudes direct or implied toward the Centre and it’s programming

PROCEDURE:

Youth will be warned about their actions/behaviors and will be given the opportunity to correct their behavior. Youth who are warned three times in an evening or at an event, regarding inappropriate comments and/or behavior, will be asked to leave for the remainder of the evening. Youth are to check in with the Executive Director the next day, or upon their next visit to the Centre for follow up.

Youth who are asked to leave three times for continued inappropriate comments/behaviors will be asked to leave for one week.

Upon completion of a one-week suspension, the youth must have a mandatory meeting with the YC Executive Director or designate where an action plan will be drawn and implemented addressing the youth's behavior. If the youth refuses/fails to follow through with the action plan or exhibits continuing misbehavior, he/she will be suspended. Reinstatement will be based upon what actions and/or services the youth has accessed in order to rectify his/her behavior.

2. Major Infractions

- Foul language directed at staff/volunteers/other youth
- Smoking inside YC
- Use of alcohol, narcotics on YC property
- Arriving at YC under influence of alcohol or narcotics
- Damaging property
- Inappropriate sexual behaviors
- Threatening staff/volunteers/other youth

PROCEDURE:

Youth committing major infractions will be asked to leave for a minimum of one week.

3. Illegal Actions

- Narcotics dealing
- Physical violence
- Vandalism
- Bringing weapons to YC
- Physical aggression towards youth /volunteer/staff

PROCEDURE:

The O.P.P. will be called and they will then decide whether to charge or refer to Diversions. Youth committing illegal infractions will be asked to leave for a minimum of one month and must speak to the Executive Director or designee before they can return.
