

LEAVING TOWN 2024

Some moments are pure and perfect Oh, we had them but not enough So today I thought I'd mention news you're moving is pretty tough

I knew your all-in couldn't last
The remoteness in your replies It took so long, happened so fast the for-sale sign's not a surprise

You left so many words unsaid
You left me in the deep to drown
Then you left our love for dead
And now you're leaving town

How will I remember if you're gone
To some unknown and faraway place?
It's right for you but feels so wrong
It's just one more slap in the face

Our time our touch they all are gone left a crumpled and crippled me years have passed and so life goes on but I remember what used to be

You left so many words unsaid
You left me in the deep to drown
Then you left our love for dead
And now you're leaving town

bridge once I know you believed in me I can't believe your turnaround you said that you were leaving me and look at now, you're leaving town

You left so many words unsaid
You left me in the deep to drown
Then you left our love for dead
now you're leaving town

you took everything from me every sorrow has been said what was left of you and me now it's over and it's dead it's been a while since we were us years have passed and life goes on

Some moments are pure perfection
And we had them but long ago
So today I thought I would mention
The news you're moving is quite a blow
