

Dear Parents-

Due to weather conditions, Monday February 1st will be a remote learning day for all students. Your child's classroom teachers and therapists are prepared to send your students lessons for the school day using emails, or any other typical route they have been using with you during remote learning school days. We expect that lessons, activities, and associated teacher/therapist guidance will be in your email mailbox by 9:30am Monday morning. If your child had a planned remote school day for February 1st (i.e. it was a red color on your child's school schedule) and it includes a previously scheduled zoom instruction/lesson, you can expect that your child's teacher will conduct the instruction/lesson as planned.

For students who are fulltime remote, the planned schedule, lessons, and therapies for Monday February 1st should be followed.

In addition, we will plan a remote physical education class for students during the day... look for details in your email before 9:30am.

A decision will be made for Tuesday February 2nd contingent upon the weather conditions, please continue to check your email, the Search Day Program website, Facebook and NJ 101.5.

Please feel free to email Mike or Lori if you have any additional questions.
