Today, October 6th is Fannie Lou Hamer's birthday. The influential Caucus of African American Leaders has decided to endorse candidates running for office on this day. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. opined that the greatest march that an American can participate in a democracy is the march to the ballot box.

We would like to encourage readers of this ad to be able to vote for the candidates we recommend. The November 5th election will have significant consequences. It will determine whether we move forward together or not.

The men and women we recommend from the School Board to the White House want to make America better and not bitter.

This ad was paid for by private donations, and we believe in democracy, reproductive rights for women, and a society where everyone is respected and protected. We urge you to vote for the following candidates:
