

Dear Applicant,

Our funds are meant for students pursuing college education, vocational training, certification coursework and/or online coursework. These funds may be used for tuition, fees, books, and course-related materials and equipment. These funds may also be used for room and board if you stay on campus. All funds must be sent directly to the institution and no refunds from the institution can be given to the student for any reason. Any unused funds will be returned to PAEF. We can hold any unused funds for the next school year and resend to the institution of your choice. Any awards must be claimed within one year of award or will revert back to PAEF funds for future students...with exception; students pursuing religious missions or national guard training must notify us to hold funds until they return.

Any resident of Granite County is eligible to apply for scholarship support to finance post-secondary education goals. In addition, students who are graduates of high school in Granite County are eligible to apply for scholarship support throughout their academic careers regardless of their residency. PAEF has streamlined the process to apply for many scholarships using one application. However, there are five scholarships that require special applications – see paefmt.com for all scholarship offerings.

For the basic application, you must write a 250 to 500-word essay worthy of a 12th grade student, meeting the Montana Standards for Writing. The application essay is not an “I need” statement; rather, it states your goals and plans to achieve those goals. All essays should be in paragraph form with a title – three to five paragraphs and double spaced for evaluation. Expected components of an essay include: Introduction with a thesis; Body of data and details to support your thesis; and Conclusion to summarize your claims or thesis.

Some awards require more than one essay. If an additional essay is required, be sure to meet the criteria as outlined in the award description or application. For examples: for the O’Rourke Scholarship, describe how your life, struggles, dreams, and accomplishments are similar to Commander O’Rourke’s. For the KPK Trust Scholarship, be sure to provide what you have done in life to deserve this opportunity and your hopes for the future – it’s a large scholarship, so the essay is more substantial. For the Vern and Anne Steffan Scholarship, provide a story about how sports in high school improved your educational experience. For the Ezra R. Gentry Memorial Scholarship, you must write a letter of interest to the Bucha/Gentry family along with two letters of recommendation. For the Rotary Scholarship, use the special application and meet all the requirements – this is a larger scholarship and requires more action on your part.

Over the years, more people are applying for educational and training funds, and competition is getting tougher. Make your application stand out by meeting the criteria, writing an interesting essay, and submitting a complete packet – put your best foot forward. Judging criteria for the essays will include: interesting content, grammar, spelling, format, and quality of supporting data. Data from Wiki is not good quality; data from Department of Labor or industry professional is great! Furthermore, make sure you meet the word count. Short paragraphs or ramblings are simply not acceptable – not for our scholarships or any others you are considering.

All applicants are required to submit official transcripts and three letters of recommendation to attest to your character and potential for success. In the past, applicants have been rejected for all consideration of any scholarship due to lack of three letters of recommendation. For high school students, letters from teachers, coaches, community organizations and employers are appropriate; letter from family and friends are not appropriate. For college students, letters from college or training instructors, community organizations and employers are appropriate. Do not resubmit letters from high school – your letters should show growth over the years. Although they certainly want to see you succeed, letters of recommendation from family and friends are NOT appropriate for scholarship application.

Submit all required documents in a plastic folder with a binding. Please do not put each page in a separate plastic; just one clear folder is good for the presentation and evaluation. Use the checklist to make sure all items are complete for the application packet. You may hand deliver the application packet to any PAEF Board member or send it to PAEF, PO Box 900, Philipsburg, MT 59858. All applications must be received by March 31st. Late or incomplete applications will not be considered. Winners will be notified by mail, along with an invitation for your family to attend the award reception.

Each year, our Scholarship Committee is comprised of equal representation from Drummond and Philipsburg. These community members work hard to ensure all applications are given due diligence. Our Scholarship Committee looks forward to seeing your application. Good Luck!

Best Regards,

Philipsburg Area Education Scholarship Committee
