We're thrilled to have been able to help dozens of students and teachers through Project ClassAct so far, providing them with LEGO STEM sets, iPads, Osmo systems, interactive whiteboard tables, fully stocked classroom libraries, and many more advanced educational items. We're excited about all the progress we're continuing to make – and with your help, that progress will be even greater. Thank you so much for your time and consideration, and we look forward to hearing from you soon!
