

Palms on the Cape

After a tumultuous childhood with a mother she describes as “a train wreck compounded by a dumpster fire that smelled like cheap perfume,” Rachel Sinclair has made a life for herself. On the verge of turning forty, her upscale beach bar—Palms on the Cape—is packed with vacationers and regulars throughout the busy Cape Cod summer season. She has surrounded herself with a chosen family of devoted staff and great friends, including her best friend, Carlos...who she might be in love with.

When a visiting study group from a Vermont business school, known as the A-List, descends on Rachel’s bar in late August, she gets pulled in by the charms of their leader, Tripper, a younger man with good looks, access, and tremendous connections in the restaurant industry.

But when Rachel learns of the A-List’s plans to take over her business, she must decide if it’s worth the gamble to join forces with an unlikely ally or risk losing everything she has worked for.

About Jenn Bouchard

Jenn Bouchard is the award-winning author of the novel First Course, Considering Us, Palms on the Cape, and several short stories. She is a graduate of Bates College and Tufts University. An avid cook, Jenn volunteers for good causes and is a devoted Red Sox fan. A high school social studies teacher of twenty-six years, she lives with her family in the Boston suburbs.

Praise for Palms on the Cape

"Palms on the Cape is a page turning, delicious escape with a main character you can't help but root for, a charming slow-burn friends-to-lovers romance, an enviable found family, and a touch of intrigue. I loved it!" -Meredith Schorr, author of RoomMating and As Seen On TV

"Palms on the Cape by Jenn Bouchard is irresistible women's fiction. This heartwarming book has an engaging plotline with a nice story arc that portrays the integrity of the slow emergence of love and long-destined romance....The story is compelling and speaks to everyone who loves what they have but dares to dream of expanding their boundaries." - 5 Star Review from Readers' Favorite

Details

Release Date: July 2, 2026

Black Rose Writing

Genre: Fiction/Contemporary Romance

Price: $18.95 paperback, $4.99 ebook

220 pages; Perfect Bound

ISBN: 978-1685137649

Available at all major retailers and directly through Black Rose Writing

Distributed through Ingram

Also by Jenn:

First Course

ISBN: 979-8990560604 (paperback) & 9798765095348 (audio)

Considering Us

ISBN: 978-1685135522 (paperback)

Contact

For Publicity & Event Inquiries,
Email Jenn at jljb@jennbouchard.com

Web: jennbouchard.com

Facebook, Instagram, X, BlueSky:
@JennBouchardBOS

For Rights Inquiries, please contact
Reagan Rothe:
rrothe@blackrosewriting.com

FULLY DISCOUNTED & RETURNABLE FOR BOOKSELLERS