

Connecting with Threads is a
501(c)(3) nonprofit organization.

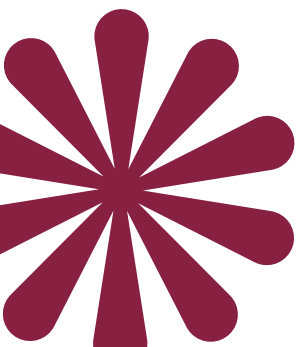

ABOUT US

Connecting with Threads nurtures members while strengthening our community through sewing, quilting, and education.

We provide support and creative opportunities while donating handmade quilts, bags, and many other items to those in need in Durham, NC and across the Triangle.

TEACHING

CWT offers sewing classes for kids & teens, aged 8-14. Volunteers use a progressive curriculum to help kids to learn and improve their sewing skills, while making items for the community.

SEWING

CWT members gather to sew a variety of projects. It's a community of big-hearted volunteers who teach and learn from each other, so all can continue to learn new skills and techniques.

Don't know how to sew yet? Come to learn.

All are welcome!
