2. Informational Purposes Only

The content on this website — including descriptions of our energy solutions, pricing schemes, savings estimates, and industry commentary — is provided for general informational purposes only. It does not constitute a binding offer, financial advice, legal advice, or a substitute for the specific terms set out in a signed Retail Supply Contract (RSC) between Skye Renewables and a client. Any figures, illustrations, or savings projections shown on this site are indicative only and may differ from actual results depending on individual usage, market conditions, and contract terms.

3. Rates, Pricing, and Market Volatility

Electricity rates referenced or illustrated on this website are subject to change without prior notice and may be affected by fluctuations in the Wholesale Electricity Spot Market (WESM), fuel costs, regulatory adjustments, foreign exchange movements, and other factors beyond our control. Nothing on this website should be relied upon as a final or guaranteed quotation. Actual pricing will be governed exclusively by the executed Retail Supply Contract between Skye Renewables and the customer.

4. Regulatory Compliance

Skye Renewables operates in accordance with the rules, resolutions, and guidelines issued by the ERC, the DOE, and the Philippine Electricity Market Corporation (PEMC). References to contestability thresholds, switching procedures, or program eligibility on this website reflect our understanding of current regulations at the time of publication and may be superseded by subsequent ERC or DOE issuances. Customers are encouraged to confirm current eligibility requirements directly with Skye Renewables or the relevant regulator.

5. No Guarantee of Uninterrupted Supply

While Skye Renewables works to ensure reliable service, the physical delivery of electricity remains the responsibility of the relevant Distribution Utility or electric cooperative. Skye Renewables does not guarantee uninterrupted, error-free, or continuous power supply and is not liable for outages, brownouts, or service interruptions caused by transmission or distribution networks, force majeure events, or circumstances outside our reasonable control.
