COVID-19

An evidence-based analysis

READ information from independent experts and whistleblowers.

THINK all information through critically.

AGT according to what the evidence tells you.

We are not being told the full facts by the government or the NHS about Covid-19. There are many examples throughout history of the government and media misleading the people in order to push through an agenda.

They are doing so again now.

FACT: Covid-19 was downgraded from high-consequence infectious disease (HCID) status by the UK government on 19th March, 2020.

FACT: Death rates are no higher this year than in a bad 'flu season.

FACT: Covid-19 is being put on death certificates fraudulently, without a test having been carried out and when the patient died of something else.

The government and its representatives in the NHS and media are misrepresenting the facts in order to create the illusion of an unprecedented deadly pandemic, and using that illusion to justify extreme "lockdown" measures: measures that have thrown millions into unemployment, mental illness, and deep personal crises.

Suicides, substance abuse, and domestic violence rates have soared. Lockdown measures are ruining lives, not saving them, and the situation is on course to get very much worse - unless we act together now.

But why would the government impose such extreme measures if not to halt a deadly pandemic?

That's a very good question, and one that requires a more detailed response than this leaflet can provide. Please take some time to study the comprehensive and evidence-based information available at these sites:
