Seventeen magazine, Fox TV and NikeTown are searching nationwide for two teens to serve as trophy presenters at the 2000 Teen Choice Awards ceremony to be aired on Fox.

The "Claim to Fame" open casting call for youths between ages 12 and 20 will take place 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. tomorrow at NikeTown, King Kalakaua Plaza in Waikiki. Contestants should bring a blank VHS tape to the audition.

One male and one female will be selected to hold trophies and escort celebrity winners. They will get to attend a post-show party and receive a wardrobe of Nike gear for the evening.

Last year's winners, Jared Padalecki, 17, of San Antonio, and Patricia Pendelton, 17, of Connecticut, have since signed with talent and modeling agencies.
