“MEET ME IN THE ZOOM ROOM!”

Restorative Parenting - the Program Providers Edition

As the use of restorative approaches is on the uprise, the idea of restorative parenting is now gaining more attention. With various entities taking on the responsibility of offering restorative parenting programs and services, many practitioners and program providers are in need of productive spaces to connect, process, and grow. Humanity Investment Group would like to provide one of those spaces. Our “Meet Me in the Zoom Room!” discussion series offers a cost-free space for people to gather and connect to explore meaningful topics. First up, restorative parenting – through the lens of program providers.
