

Let's get through the nitty gritty before we surf

Ready?

Surfing is so much fun, however it can be dangerous but we have to cover ourselves. Just like driving a car or riding a bike, all things in life have a certain level of risk involved. So it's important to take some time out to read through the indemnity. When you arrive on the day for your surf lesson, you will sign it and head out for your awesome surfing experience. We know it can scare you but don't let it put you off. All surf schools and adventure companies have indemnities you have to read through. It's standard protocol basically. After your first lesson you will definitely want to come back for more!
