1. Check your event date.

Start by confirming your event date and making sure it fits within the advance notice required for your selected service. Some services can be booked with shorter notice, while larger catered events may require more planning time.

- Heat & Serve Platter Packs require the least amount of notice; one week or less.
- Ready to Serve Platter Packs & Box Lunches require two weeks notice.
- Full Service Catering & Chick'n Magnet is based on event date availability.

2. Choose your service style.

Decide how you'd like Roots to serve your event. Options may include full-service catering, food truck service, buffet-style service, or ready-to-heat or serve platter packs for easy pickup.

3. Select your menu.

Choose from our slow-cooked meats, homestyle sides, and crowd-favorite comfort foods. We're happy to help you determine the right quantities based on your guest count.

4. Finalize the details

Once your menu and service style are selected, we'll confirm timing, pickup or service details, and any additional items needed for your event.
