A SOCIAL LEARNING AND COMMUNICATION PROGRAM

Is your child having difficulties focusing and paying attention at school or home?

Are they finding making and keeping friends a challenge?

Do they struggle to learn and play in a group?

Inclodus Little Learners is excited to introduce a new social learning program for children aged 4-7 years who find it difficult to understand social situations. The program is based on Social Thinking®, a teaching methodology created by Michelle Garcia Winner. Social Thinking® explores the social code and turns social concepts (like being part of a group, and thinking about our thoughts and feelings) into ideas that make sense to our little learners.*

The Think, Say, Look and Play program is delivered by an experienced, qualified early childhood registered teacher. Working together with your family's current therapists to meet your child's needs.
