In an era where conscious living is redefining luxury, Doodle Studio, in collaboration with Studio Macrocosm, pioneers a revolutionary step in sustainable furniture design. Together, we present 'Kathak Threads', a carbon-neutral furniture range that embodies artistry, innovation, and responsibility.

Guided by the principles of traditional craftsmanship and eco-conscious materials, Doodle Studio has meticulously designed each piece to resonate with grace and cultural heritage. With Studio Macrocosm's expertise in fabrication, this collection is brought to life using Palm Strand Board (PSB) - a breakthrough alternative to solid wood that ensures zero deforestation while delivering unmatched durability.

Our commitment extends beyond aesthetics; it is about creating a legacy where furniture is not just functional, but a narrative of sustainability. 'Kathak Threads' is more than a collection—it's a movement towards a future where luxury meets responsibility.

OUR MATERIALS & FINISHES

We recognize the need for sustainable alternatives that reduce ecological impact while maintaining durability and performance.

Water-Based, Low/No VOC Polish – Ensures a non-toxic finish, safe for homes and the environment.

100% Recycled / Sustainable Fabric – Upholstery that not only enhances comfort but also aligns with sustainable living.

Traditional Joinery Techniques – Avoiding unnecessary metal fasteners, ensuring structural integrity with minimal environmental impact.

Palm Strand Board – A high-performance, formaldehyde-free material made from agricultural palm waste - that is typically burned or buried, reducing dependency on deforestation. PSB is not only durable but also fully recyclable at the end of its life span, making it a key component of a true circular economy.

As the primary material in our furniture sets, PSB aligns with our commitment to sustainability and innovation. The technology ensures that each piece supports environmental preservation while upholding global sustainability agreements. By choosing PSB furniture, you contribute to a more sustainable and healthier future, helping to protect the planet for generations to come.
