PROJECT TIMELINE

At Capital Development, we understand that every project is unique, and timelines can vary based on several factors. The size and scope of the project, the specific services required, as well as external factors such as weather conditions and potential shipping delays with materials, all play a role in determining the timeframe. To ensure smooth project management and client satisfaction, we always account for these potential delays and estimate an additional two weeks to our timelines, allowing for flexibility and ensuring that we stay within the agreed-upon timeframe. Your satisfaction and peace of mind are our top priorities, and we are committed to delivering exceptional results on time, every time.
