A Message from the Leader of Our PHlock

Hello Parrot Heads,

We may not have seen the April Showers I've come to expect, but one thing the Club has not been short on is community involvement.

Congratulation to everyone! I am so happy to let you know that we have already volunteered for 12 events this year and collectively we have already given back a total of 402 hours to our community (43 more hours if we include giving Parrott Head volunteers that are not currently members). Outstanding effort!!!

Thanks to Tony and Colleen for leading us and keeping our efforts strong. Thanks to everyone for making the Party with a Purpose moto meaningful. It's a great feeling… I mean to give back… ok, I mean partying and giving back equally… ok, it's my on damn fault.

Fins Up,
Jeff

You asked for it and it's in the works ...

According to our survey, you'd be interested in a Bowling Event as well as a Shrimp Boil. Watch for more info as our illustrious Board tries to hammer out the details. Also, who wouldn't want to hit the beach for sun, fun, and hot dogs?!!

Christmas Party Theme:
Gypsies in the Palace

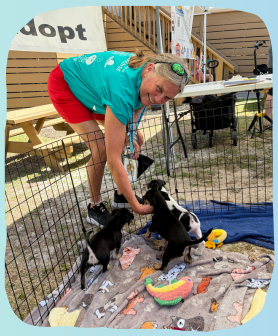

Don't wait until the last minute to get your gypsy costume together. Amazon has a slew of them ... or you could just look at them and then create your own. The big A doesn't have too much regarding table decorations that match the theme ... so maybe the song plot will give you ideas.

PLOT: "The song concerns an apparently professional entertainer who leaves his home in the care of the unnamed narrator and another man nicknamed "Snake" while he goes to perform elsewhere.

Once the homeowner leaves, the two men are enticed by the food and alcohol he has in store and shoot the lock off his liquor cabinet, rationalizing this action by claiming the inventory will go to waste if not consumed. They then invite numerous people to the house to throw a wild party, where they have naked conga lines, throw people into his swimming pool, and partake in his commodities.

The homeowner calls the house and reports that he will return early, so the two rush out their guests and clean up the mess left during the party. When the homeowner returns, the two men point out all the work they've done around his house in his absence, then offer to watch the house again if the opportunity arises."
