

You would not try to raise this animal!

Why would you try to raise that animal?

Wildlife Rehabilitation is a profession just like doctors and lawyers. It should not be attempted by untrained people. This is why there are requirements and laws requiring permission! You want your doctor to have a medical degree and lawyer to be licensed. Let the legally permitted rehabilitators do their job. By ignoring your local nonprofit you are jeopardizing the survival of the wild animal you are 'saving'. Successfully raising a wild requires much more than proper nutrition. If you want to get involved with wildlife, simply ask to join the team of volunteers at your local wildlife rehabilitation facility.

Look at it this way:

If your neighbor came over asking for help because his leg hurts, would you search the internet how to set a broken leg or would you drive him to the hospital?
