 Would we revisit? It was a one-night stop for us while traveling to break up the long miles we will cover getting from Arizona to Fort Lauderdale for the first ever Official Brinkley Rally. It was a nice campground. There was one rule, which they strictly enforced, that we have not seen before- “Children under the age of 16 must be supervised by an adult in all areas of the park.”

 Area Attractions we did:

- Walked to the grocery store
- Attended the Observatory Show – Jim was our instructor, and he showed us a lot of different stars & planets. It was free and very good.
