President's Message

March winds are blowing in and let's hope they bring us some good shelling. It is hard to believe that February is gone but it is the shortest month even with Leap Year. What a busy month it was too with all the wonderful shell shows in the area beginning with our own club's Member Shell Show on February 4. Many thanks to all who participated and congratulations to all our winners. Check out the pictures in this issue. Isn't Sharlene Totten amazing? She did an awesome job not only arranging the shell show but also creating all the wonderful awards that we all wanted. (I think she should make these to sell.) Thank you Sharlene!

The next show up was the Sarasota Shell Show the weekend of February 7-9. I was fortunate enough to attend this show with several others from our club. The scientific and art displays were quite something to behold. We really enjoyed the show and friendliness of the Sarasota club members. Our club members Pat and Bob Linn were exhibitors in the Scientific category and won a blue ribbon for their huge display (14 cases with posters explaining) of Abalones Around the World. Wow! What a collection of abalones they have! I fell in love with them and ended up buying an abalone for myself from one of the show vendors.

Next up was the St. Pete Shell Show on February 21-22. This was another great show and a number of our members met and attended on Friday, the 21st. I am so happy to see the support for our fellow club members, five of whom were exhibitors—Steve Geiger, Jennifer Kotimaki, Pat & Bob Linn, Carolyn & Earl Petrikin and Sharlene Totten. I am also very happy to report that they all won awards or ribbons for first or second place on some of their exhibits. Pat & Bob, Carolyn & Earl, and Jennifer also won some very prestigious awards for their exhibits. Check out the list of their awards and see the pictures in this issue. Steve had quite a number of exhibits and won a number of ribbons. His exhibit on our club shell, Strombus alatus, was particularly pertinent to us. Carolyn & Earl's exhibit on Whelks was dear to me as I love collecting these not only here on the west coast of Florida but also on the South Carolina coast. It was a very informative display of 7 show cases with posters explaining. Great job everyone who participated in the St. Pete Show and Congratulations on your wins!!

Now that March is here, we have another busy month. The March 3rd meeting had a presentation by Wendy Hayward, one of our members, on reducing the plastics from our daily lives. Then on Monday, March 9, Steve has an interesting field trip planned to Emerson Point Preserve in Manatee County. Another big shell show, the Sanibel Shell Show, is coming up March 5-7. Pat and Bob Linn will be exhibiting there. Numerous people have told me what a great show this is and I am looking forward to seeing it. I will be attending on Friday, the 6th and I do hope some of you will make an effort to attend. March 14-15 is Fossil Fest sponsored by the Tampa Bay Fossil Club at the Florida State Fairgrounds in Tampa. We have members of our club who are members of the TB Fossil Club. Let's get out and support them. And last is the Marco Island Shell Show March 19-21. Not sure if I will make that one but I am going to try since I have a close friend I can stay with in Naples.

April promises to be a calmer month. No shell shows close-by that I am aware. Our meeting on April 7 will be Sands of Time presented by club member Debbie McCreary.

Another reminder about the COA Convention 2020 registration – the convention is June 17-20 in Melbourne, FL. There are field trips June 15 & 16. All the information, as well as registration forms, is on the COA website conchologistsofamerica.org. (This is correct address. I accidentally left off the s on this web address last newsletter.)

I want to take this opportunity to thank our club members who are presenting club programs this year and sharing their area of expertise with the club. I also thank all who contribute to making our club a success in other ways, as committee chairs and volunteering for projects. As I keep saying, this is OUR club, and we make it so by being active participants.

I recently saw this sign and want to share with all of you. It made me think of so many members of our club who give and share of their time and talents.

If you get, Give.

If you learn, Teach.

Happy Spring and Happy Shelling!

Nancy

SHELL TIP for those who are new to shelling!!

Carolyn's tip for identifying shells by their scientific name:

One of the resources to use to see if your shell's Latin name is correct is to look on "worms"---the "World Register of Marine Species."

I've always found it by scrolling down a bit after putting in a search for just "worms." Lately this hasn't been working for me. Try marinespecies.org or the title. Once you get used to using this site, you'll find it very useful! Carolyn

Congratulations are in order!

Congratulations to our centenarian member, Murray Smith on receiving his 50-yr award from the Shriners!

Sheller's Creed

The wild and natural resources of this planet have been entrusted to me for protection and preservation. Whether I wish it or not, I must account to the future for my handling of this wealth today. If I collect shells, I will do it conservatively, recognizing that destruction of the marine habitat, by whatever means, is the true enemy of the sea and its creatures.
