Calling All Manley Art Center Writers!

There will be a special table for book sales at the Gallery during the Azalea Festival. Any member of the Manley Art Center who wants to submit their work for sale is welcome!

Here's how:

1. Notify Guia Hiebert at guiaandgary@gmail.com that you will be bringing books for sale.
2. Bring your books in May at the changeover at the beginning of the month to be inventoried. You may bring up to THREE titles and SIX copies of each title for sale during the Festival.

There will be volunteers manning the table and we look forward to promoting writing as an art for all the community to enjoy.

Clash of Titans - Les Cornish

Member Spotlight

Les Cornish featured in prestigious maritime exhibition.

We're thrilled to share that our Manley Art Center member, Les Cornish, has had two of his stunning pastel paintings juried into the American Society of Marine Artists' (ASMA) National Maritime Exhibition, hosted at the Coos Art Museum.

This esteemed annual exhibition, a long-standing collaboration between ASMA and the museum, celebrates the beauty, power, and history of the sea—featuring exceptional marine art from across the country.

Les' paintings, "Clash of Titans" and "Evening Reveal," will be on display at the Coos Art Museum from May 10 through July 20, 2025. Congratulations, Les!

Origins of Pelican Bay Arts Association

The First PBAA Newsletter
by Nola Range

1956 Copy of "Pelican Bay Current"

The earliest newsletter in the archives is dated Fall 1956 with a note that it was mailed on September 13, 1956. It was a single page, single spaced letter titled "Pelican Bay Current". The newsletter tells about the weekend work parties where members remodeled the building on Fern Street so that it would be ready for their First Anniversary in November and in time to celebrate American Art Week. Members were encouraged to contribute to the November Art Auction in order to raise money for the building fund. The final line of the newsletter reads, "Come paint or sit with us on Friday nights. PS. Bring your own chair."
