"No matter the question, Valerie helped us resolve it. Valerie's network of contractors and other resources assisted us in preparing the house for market and far exceeded our expectations. Although the market was changing as the New Year started, Valerie was confident on the price to list our house, and the feedback garnered from those who viewed the house confirmed that the price was right. We had offers almost immediately, and Valerie worked hard to have back up offers should anything go awry. Valerie was by our side through the entire process. We cannot thank Valerie enough for her hard work through the selling process and highly recommend Valerie to anyone looking to buy or sell a house!"
