Program Description

Dean's Turtle Farm will present a live animal educational program featuring turtles, tortoises, and other reptiles. Animals are selected solely by the Provider based on safety, animal welfare, and environmental conditions.

Handling & Safety

Animal handling is optional and strictly at the discretion of Dean's Turtle Farm. Participants must follow all instructions at all times. Bites or minor injuries are rare but possible, including with turtles.

Assumption of Risk & Liability Waiver

Client acknowledges that live animals are unpredictable by nature and voluntarily assumes all risks. Client agrees to release, indemnify, and hold harmless Dean's Turtle Farm from any claims, injuries, or damages arising from participant interaction, inadequate supervision, or venue conditions.

Supervision of Minors

Client is fully responsible for the supervision and behavior of all minors present. Dean's Turtle Farm is not responsible for supervising children.

Weather & Animal Welfare

Because reptiles are highly sensitive to environmental conditions, Dean's Turtle Farm reserves the right to reschedule or modify the program if weather conditions are not indicative of responsible reptile care, including extreme heat, cold, rain, or unsafe outdoor conditions.

Photography & Video

Photography and video recording are permitted for personal, educational, or promotional use, provided animals are not handled, disturbed, or approached without Provider approval.

Cancellation

Cancellations within _____ hours of the scheduled event may be subject to a cancellation fee. Weather-related rescheduling under the Weather & Animal Welfare clause is not considered a cancellation.
