

Watercolour workshops

I am a professional watercolour artist and I truly love what I do. I see myself as a medium to bring art to the world, most importantly, art that they choose themselves. Art can be so subjective, and by painting what my clients request, I make sure that they too can feel how powerful art can be. It can change lives!

I also love to teach! I am a Lecturer at a tertiary institution, teaching the young creatives to be strategic designers of the future.

I teach weight lifting and group exercise classes, so, teaching is a pillar of passion in my life.

During any of my classes, the most important is that you feel invested in what you're creating. It is my job to teach you the skills to master the medium. To feel the power of art. The satisfaction of mastery and of feeling fulfilled.

To find personal symbolism behind what you created yourself.
