Middle School Patriot Day
Luncheon for Responders

Dear First Responders,

We hope this letter finds you well. As we celebrate Patriot Day, we wanted to take a moment to express our deepest gratitude for everything you do. Your bravery, dedication, and selflessness are truly inspiring, and we are so thankful for your service to our community.

Each day, you put yourselves in harms way to keep us safe, and that takes an incredible amount of courage. Whether you're firefighters, police officers, paramedics, or any other type of first responder, your work doesn't go unnoticed. You're the ones who rush in when others are rushing out, and you always put others before yourselves.

At our middle school, we learn about the importance of helping others and standing up for what's right. You embody these values every day, and you make us proud to be part of this community. We know that your job can be tough and demanding, but please remember that we appreciate all your efforts more than words can say.

Thank you for your unwavering commitment to keeping us safe. You are true heroes, and we are forever grateful for all that you do. As we reflect on this Patriots Day, we want you to know that you have our utmost respect and admiration.

With heartfelt thanks and best wishes,

Students and Staff of the Sullivan Middle School

09-18-24 - Dr. Hewkin and his staff came out to give a presentation on mental health to all three of the crews. The first responders often deal with a large amount of mental stress with the trauma they see from the calls. As most have seen over the last year the events that have unfolded on Interstate 44, has become more frequent and more challenging for our first responders. The trauma they see often bears a burden on all the first responders and is taken home with them. This causes problems with family and friends. Dr. Hewkin has given first responders several ways to cope and treat mental illness from the job. Jimmy John's also provided food for first responders after class. "Thank you!" to both businesses and community for your support.
